ASKS LAW TO CURB UNION RACKETEERING

Washington (AP) — President Eisenhower today urged Congress to curb "corruption racketeering and abuse of trust and power in the labor-management field." He made the recommendation in a 12-point proposal for legislation.

In a special message, Eisenhower recommended specifically that unions be subject to loss of equal bargaining status if they fail to file true and proper data on their finances and other subjects.

Against a background of congressional inquiries disclosing abuses in the labor-management field, Eisenhower called for legislation "to benefit and protect the welfare of American workers and the general public."

He added it should curb abuses, and provide greater harmony and stability in labor-management relations.

The entire 12-point legislative program recommended by Eisenhower had been unveiled previously by Secretary of Labor Mitchell. He outlined it in a speech at the AFL-CIO convention last December.

Eisenhower said the American public should be reassured:

1. That funds set aside for the benefit of workers in health, welfare and pension funds are accounted for;
2. That money contributed by workers to union treasuries is used solely for their welfare;
3. That organizations of working people are administered in such fashion as to reflect their will;
4. That workers are more fully protected from dealings between labor and management representatives which have the effect of preventing full exercise of the workers' rights to organize and bargain collectively, and
5. That the public is protected against unfair labor and management practices.

Proposing that unions be required to file reports on their financial affairs and internal operations. (Turn to Page Eighteen).

Dope Worth 7 Million Seized In Jersey Raid

Camden, N.J. (AP)—Federal narcotics agents, springing a trap baited 18 months ago, early today seized heroin and opium worth 7 million dollars at retail addict prices and arrested 11 persons.

Among those seized in what was described as the biggest narcotics haul in recent years was Peter Casella, 50, of Philadelphia, and Ventnor, N. J., alleged leader of the dope ring. Casella was arrested at his Ventnor home.

Delivery of the huge quantity of heroin and opium was made before dawn today to a pair of federal agents, acting as undercover men, in a motel on the Black Horse Pike near Williamstown, N. J.

The agents said James Santore, 43, of Philadelphia, delivered the dope—the heroin in 10 paper bags, the opium in 4 jars—and was promptly arrested after he had been trailed from Casella's New Jersey home, where he had picked up the narcotics, to the motel.

Police promptly radioed the news. It set into motion other traps resulting in the arrest of Casella and nine others.

Among these were Nicholas Serrian, 43, of Richland, near Vineland, N. J.; James Simmons, 46, believed to be the owner of the motel where the first trap was sprung; Frank Malt, 41, of Philadelphia.

Serrian was arrested in a home at Elmont, Long Island, N. Y. He is currently free in bail appealing a two-year sentence for operating a still.

Three Men Captured After Break From County Jail on New Year's Day May Be Sentenced Tomorrow

Handcuffed, and with a cotton patch over his left eye, Richard Elsager this morning pleaded guilty to charges of prison breach and assaulting an officer, Starbuck Peace Justice Fred Berry at right prepares the papers which commit the prisoner to Warren County Jail for a probable appearance in court tomorrow and sentencing along with his two cronies. In center is Sheriff Larry Linder who apprehended Elsager and under whose jurisdiction the prisoner has been excepted for approximately one hour New Year's Day during an ill-fated escape attempt which netted the 22-year-old former RD Youngsville young man a bullet wound in the head. His left eye was put out.

Klansmen Awaiting Sentence for Part In Flogging Negro

Greenville, S. C. (AP)—Four admitted Ku Klux Klansmen awaited sentencing today for conspiring to flog a Negro at his home near here last July 21.

An all-white jury found Andrew Marshall Rochester, Wade Henry Howard, Jack Bentley and Robert E. Waldrop guilty of conspiring to commit the assault and battery of Claud Cruell.

The jury also convicted Rochester, head of the Klan group, and Howard of flogging the 58-year-old Negro at his home near Travelers Rest, about 13 miles north of here, because of his association with a white family who rented a house on his 100-acre farm.

Judge James M. Bratford Jr., could sentence Rochester and Howard to a maximum 15 years in prison, and Bentley and Waldrop to 10 years.

The jury, which deliberated almost four hours, freed Johnny Frank Quinn and R. J. Roach of charges in the case. The judge dismissed charges against 5 of the 11 white men originally indicted.

Cruell and his 54-year-old wife Fannie, were caring for the seven children of Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood Turner, the white tenants, when a group of men stormed into the house. The men wrapped a chain around Cruell's arm, dragged him to another room and beat him.

U.A.W. Prepares to Vote on Reuther's Profit-Sharing Plan

Detroit (AP)—The United Auto Workers' special convention on bargaining strategy was ready to vote today on Walter P. Reuther's profit-sharing plan for the auto industry.

The UAW president appeared confident that he had ample strength among the 3,000 delegates to win approval of the plan. It would give auto workers a one-quarter share of a company's profits over 10 per cent on net capital before taxes.

In an hourlong opening debate on the plan, the red-haired labor chief bristled at a delegate's suggestion that it "appears we're serving as a rubber stamp."

The criticism came from Lewis H. Michener of Long Beach, Calif. He said in the 1953 bargaining program should have been worked out in the convention instead of being publicized before the delegates convened.

Reuther retorted, "We only told you our thinking. The companies rejected our thinking. We could have been criticized justly if we had not given you time to think it over."

Reuther announced that General Motors President Harlow H. Curtis had rejected the union's invitation to address the convention on what he believed should be its bargaining goals this spring.

Library Building At St. Francis Is Destroyed by Fire

Loretto, (AP)—The two story frame library building of St. Francis College burned to the ground today in a spectacular fire which college officials said caused a loss of at least a half million dollars. No one was hurt.

The building, a World War II surplus structure, was known as Padua Hall.

It contained 45,000 bound volumes, many of them priceless.

Included in the loss were some of the personal effects of Father Prince Gallitzin, a priest who pioneered Catholicism in this Allegheny Mountain area about 85 miles northeast of Pittsburgh.

The fire broke out about 5:30 a. m. and was roaring out of control when firemen arrived. They prevented the blaze from damaging the chapel and administration buildings, both brick structures.

Father Kevin Keelan, president of the Roman Catholic College, estimated the loss at $500,000 and said the estimate was "conservative."

Origin of the blaze could not be determined.

DICTATOR OF VENEZUELA IS OVERTHROWN

BULLETIN

Caracas, Venezuela, (AP)—Military leaders overthrew the dictatorship of President Marcos Perez Jimenez today. A bloody revolt of civilians led by a newspaper reporter brought about the overthrow. Perez Jimenez, ruler of the nation for nearly 10 years, fled with his family and allies to the Dominican Republic. Another ex-dictator, Juan D. Peron of Argentina, to whom Perez Jimenez had given refuge, was reported fleeing to Colombia by car. The revolt, which began with an abortive air force uprising on New Year's Day, culminated in a civilian-led general strike strike Tuesday. Hundreds were killed and wounded in rioting and pitched street fighting while Perez Jimenez maneuvered in vain to hang on. There was no certainty that the flight of Perez Jimenez would end the trouble.

By MORRIS ROSENBERG

Caracas, Venezuela (AP)—President Marcos Perez Jimenez fled from Venezuela today, but new bloodshed marred the wild jubilation which followed the dictator's downfall.

Guardmen opened fire on a crowd which moved on its headquarters to release political prisoners ordered freed by a military junta which took over the government. An undetermined number of persons were reported killed and others were wounded.

The junta rushed two tanks to the guard headquarters and appealed to the people to clear the area so the release of the prisoners could proceed.

Perez Jimenez took to his heels after a brief but bloody civilian uprising in which the military finally joined.

The junta, at once began restoring some of the liberties the dictatorship of nearly 10 years had suppressed.

In addition to freedom for all political prisoners it ordered all (Turn to Page Eighteen).

Maria Callas Is Given Ovation in Windy City

Chicago (AP)—If Maria Meneghini-Callas had any echo in her ear of the fiasco attending her Rome Opera appearance it vanished last night in a thunderous 10-minute ovation that set the Civic Opera House vibrating with shouts of "Bravo!"

The concert sponsored by the Alliance Francaise brought her back to the scene of her first American triumph and also marked her first appearance since the Rome revolt Jan. 2.

In the Rome Opera singing the title role in Bellini's "Norma," the audience reaction caused her to quit after the first act. She claimed she was ill. Critics said she lost her voice and then her temper.

But last night, the 34-year-old diva seemed beyond annoyance.

To a newsman who confronted her, she bubbled: "What can I say? I am so very happy. There is no more to say."

Argentine Leader And Aides Flee to Colombia

Caracas, (AP)—Deposed Argentine dictator Juan D. Peron and his aides were reported today fleeing toward the Colombian border in search of new asylum after the downfall of the Marcos Perez Jimenez dictatorship.

Apparently Peron; his top aide, Maj. Pablo Vicente; and others left for Colombia before dawn, immediately upon learning that Perez Jimenez had been overthrown.

Informed sources said Peron was traveling by automobile.

Peron had lived in Caracas for about a year. He came here from Panama, his first place of exile after his Argentine government was overthrown in September, 1955.

Many Feared Dead In Apartment House Blaze in Chicago

Chicago, (AP)—A fire and explosion spread havoc through a crowded South Side apartment building early today. In the frenzy to escape, many children were dropped from windows of the four-story building.

One infant was dead and at least six other children unaccounted for. One man also was missing. At least 21 were injured. Nine were children.

"The babies were falling like rain drops," said Jack McLellan, 31, Negro, who rushed to the where he said he caught five children dropped from windows. He fractured a thumb while catching one child.

Fire officials said there were 150 occupants in the building's 27 apartments.

Cause of the blast was not determined immediately but authorities said there apparently was no connection between the explosion and accidental sale of a gasoline-mixture as fuel oil.

An alarm was sounded on the West Side last night warning all possible purchasers of potential danger.

Wisconsin Congressman Dies of Heart Attack

Washington, (AP)—Rep. Lawrence H. Smith (R-Wis.), 65, collapsed in the House restaurant at noon Wednesday and was pronounced dead at 12:30 p.m. as he was being rushed to Walter Reed Hospital.

Dr. George Calver, Capitol physician, said Smith died of an acute coronary thrombosis resulting from arteriosclerotic heart disease. Smith sustained a similar attack three years ago.

This was the fourth death of a member of Congress since Congress reconvened Jan. 7. The flags on the Capitol building have continued to fly at half staff since Jan. 11 when Rep. Russell Keeney (R-Ill.) died.

State Approval Is Given High School

Bureau of School Buildings, Department of Public Instruction, announced this week its approval of a high school building project for Warren Area Joint School District.

The project was approved on the basis of an estimated cost of $2,612,325 at an estimated yearly amortization rental of $192,386.60. The state over the years will reimburse the Jointure $2,040,000, which means $1,700 in state aid for each of the estimated 1,200 pupils for whom the building is to be built. Three Swick site land owners are still not satisfied with property evaluation set by school district appraisers.

Furman Plans Free-Swinging Campaign for Democratic Post

Harrisburg (AP)—The political tempo quickened markedly today as Lt. Gov. Roy E. Furman promised to make "a free swinging contest" for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination and Read- ing manufacturer Arthur T. McGonigle declared himself "available" for the Republican nomination.

Furman issued a lengthy statement last night in reply to Gov. Leader's statement Tuesday that the lieutenant governor does not meet what Leader considers the basic requirements for the party's

94-Year-Old Convict Starting a New Life

Columbus (AP)—John Morgan, at 94, starts a new life today.

Morgan is being released from Ohio Penitentiary. He will have a new suit—a gift of the state—a bus ticket to Cleveland and some $300 that has accumulated in his "personal account" at the penitentiary.

Convicted in 1928 of the slaying of a Cleveland junk dealer, he was sentenced to life imprisonment. After being turned down 10 times by the parole board, he was granted his freedom at the 11th hearing.

Morgan has maintained his innocence in the slaying of Jacob Rosenberg in Cleveland.

Morgan has no living relatives. A Cleveland welfare agency has promised to take care of him. He is physically agile and mentally alert.

CBS Explains Why Author Was Cut Off Air During TV Program

New York, (AP)—The sound was cut off on a CBS television program last night when author Donald C. Keyhoe, a former Marine Corps major, began to digress from the script in speaking of flying saucers.

A network employee explained that nobody knew what he was going to say.

Keyhoe was silenced for about 15 seconds during "The Armstrong Circle Theatre" presentation of a documentary on flying objects. The program was "UFO—Enigma of the Skies." "UFO" stands for "unidentified flying objects."

Keyhoe is the author of "The Flying Saucers Are Real." He had just said: "We are meeting in secret with a congressional committee. If these meetings were public it would be proved," when the sound was cut.

CBS later issued a statement signed by Keyhoe saying the incident was due to a misunderstanding on his part about the rules for approval of script changes. The statement did not disclose what Keyhoe was going to say further.

MONOXIDE VICTIMS BETTER

Washington, Pa. (AP)—Four members of a family sickened by carbon monoxide remained in a hospital today as mass funeral services were held for five relatives killed by the fumes. Still in Washington Hospital are Eugene Cox, 39, of West Finley R.D. 1, and his children Ricky, 2; Marilyn, 3; and Terry, 4. Ricky and Marilyn have been removed from the critical list although Marilyn still is in an oxygen tent. Terry is listed in fair condition and the father is reported responding to treatment.

Two Warren Firms Plan Exhibits in Show at Chicago

Two Warren firms will be among the 425 exhibiting companies at the 9th Plant Maintenance & Engineering Show at the International Amphitheatre, Chicago, Jan. 27-30.

Twenty thousand executives and engineers from 30 countries are expected to attend. Almost 10,000 products in exhibits valued at $7,500,000 will be on display. The show is devoted to equipment and products to keep the nation's factories running. With the coming of automation, maintenance of machinery and plants is becoming one of the most important functions in industry.

The show is returning to Chicago for the first time since 1955 and will be 50 per cent larger than it was when last held there.

The Plant Maintenance & Engineering Conference will be held at the same time. Sixty-six speakers, drawn from 22 states, the District of Columbia and Canada will address the conference.

For the first time, two new topics, air pollution and water pollution, will occupy prominent parts in the conference program and many exhibits will stress methods for eliminating these conditions.

Virtually every major company in the country will be represented among the visitors. Ten basic industries have requested that special sessions be devoted to their problems. They are chemicals, metal fabricating, food processing, foundries, steel mills, metal working, petroleum, pulp and paper, rubber, and research and development laboratories.

Warren exhibitors include: DeLuxe Metal Furniture Co., and Thomas Flexible Coupling Company.

FROM THE HEART, FOR THE HEART—The American Heart Association points out that there are more than 30 forms of heart disease affecting over 10 million Americans, including 500,000 children. Nearly 180,000 persons die of strokes each year. In 1956, last year for which figures are available, heart and circulatory diseases were responsible for 53.9 per cent of deaths at all ages (see Newchart). The Association, in its month-long February campaign for the Heart Fund, has designated February 23rd as Heart Sunday, when volunteers in communities across the nation will stage a door-to-door appeal.

Aerial Forest Patrols Planned After Record 49 Blazes in '57

An aerial forest patrol is planned in 1958 after Complanter Forest District reported more fires in dry 1957 than in any of the five succeeding years.

A total of 49 forest fires were battled in the Complanter District of Pennsylvania. Department of Forests and Waters, according to the annual activity review just submitted to Forest Fire Warden.

Acres burned was 192.75, but this was only 3.94 acre per fire, which is the best record of efficiency compiled by the district in the past five years. The acreage burned during each fire has dwindled steadily since the high of 9.99 acres per fire was burned over in 1954.

Fire fighting officials blamed the unusually high number of fires in 1957 on "a fast start to a spring fire season, a dry summer and an extremely dry archery season . . . Obvious carelessness and lack of understanding of fire behavior on the part of those using fire gave us a spirited spring burning season.

Full details of the proposed aerial inspection force will be announced at spring dinner meetings throughout the Complanter District.

The review also quoted State Law which reads: "Every person causing a forest fire within this Commonwealth, directly or by the act of an agent or employee, shall be liable to the Commonwealth for all expenses incurred by the Department of Forests and Waters on account of such fire." Costs of extinction in 1957 were listed at $2,571, or $13.35 per acre burned.

The department was "totally successful" in recovering damage from known offenders in 1957, according to the review.

Hunters caused 14 of the fires, smokers 10, brush and rubbish burners 6, railroad ties and fumes 4, unknown 8, others 7.

Warren County led in the number of spring fires with 10, burned 62 acres. The county also led in fall fires which burned 47.25 acres. Forest County had only eight but these burned 49 acres.

Spring fires, continues the review, were in cost cases easily handled, but lack of surface moisture in the dry fall of 1957 created stubborn blazes not easily extinguished.

Compiling the report were Charles S. Merroth, district forester; George Ray Winning, assistant forester; forest inspectors Theodore R. Dodd and Andrew G. Marfink; and park foreman John T. Rodgers.

Effects of Kinzua Dam Discussed at Kiwanis

A future Chamber of Commerce report, dealing with long range effects of the proposed Kinzua Dam, was outlined before Kiwanis at their regular meeting yesterday in Penn Laurel Motel.

Chamber representatives Paul Harrington, Charles Tranter, William Walker and James Blomquist as panelists discussed various COC projects of the past year and those of the future. Among the projects were industrial development and survey by Arthur D. Little Co. of Boston (expected in a few weeks), a traffic survey and retailer committee plans.

Henry Ledebur spoke of the 43rd anniversary of the founding of Kiwanis in Detroit Jan. 21. He spoke of parallels facing both the then and now, including rosy futures.

Kiwanians Richard Betts and Andrew Yurick were congratulated on becoming finalists for the JC Distinguished Service Award.

Truman Well and Don A. Goodall, Chamber of Commerce northern division manager and district manager, respectively, were introduced.

Style Shop Without Services of Star For Tonight's Game

When the Style Shop goes into Chautauqua County League action tonight at Clymer, meeting the team they defeated here by a 93-61 score, they will be without the services of ace back-court man Gail Nelson and his 18-point per game average, but hope to fill the gap with the always dependable Easy Ed Lindberg, Wink Rickerson and the team's leading scorer, Hud Berdine.

Although Nelson's loss is serious, it is hoped the slack will be taken up by the strong Style Shop bench. The Chautauqua County League is currently led by the Style Shop, who have a 5-0 record in league competition. In second place is a strong Marlboro-Rockwell five, with whom the Stylers do battle on February 4 in Jamestown.

Next home game is Saturday, January 25, at the Armory against St. Marys. Game time, 8:15 p. m.

Style Shop overwhelmed the Titusville Indies last night in a non-league game played at the Armory, with a score of 117-64.

Improvement Is Noted In Parking Situation

Motorists are particularly grateful for the gradual and, in some areas, marked improvement in the parking situation. The past year has witnessed the building of more parking garages as separate building units and as a part of new building construction than in any previous year. This development has been accomplished both by investment of private capital and by municipal government financing. Municipally owned parking facilities are in some communities operated through parking authorities and in others by leasing property to corporations or individual operators. It is expected that 1958 will witness further improvement in the creation of off-street parking facilities, especially if the money paid by motorists in parking meter fees is used for parking purposes as originally intended.

Proving Cancer Is Family Affair

Teen-age members of the Methodist Youth Fellowship of Epworth Methodist church have gone all-out to demonstrate that "Cancer is a family affair".

In a wonderful effort for the Warren County Unit, American Cancer Society, a group of 15 members worked one short evening at the Cancer Center and prepared a total of 376 surgical dressings.

It is especially pleasing to learn that in this group were four young men, first ever to volunteer for such a task. All were dressed in the official white garb workers must don for this job, the youths looking like young interns, the girls assuming the roles of young Florence Nightingales.

Working together under the leadership of Lewis Mayhe, adult advisor, and Mrs. Mayhe, counselor, were Sally Watt, Donna Jones, Donna Guld, Karen Smith, Nadine Kifer, Kande Baldensperger, Cecilia Smith, Becky Weaver, Joan Sederberg, Dick and Jack Pierce, Jeffrey Brooks, Eleanor Karenheimer, Norma and Dale Karenheimer.

Co-Chairmen Planning Amateur Art Exhibit

Much was accomplished in a preliminary planning session held by the co-chairmen of the Woman's Club Art Talent Recognition Show, Mrs. Robert Israel and Mrs. Clare J. Cray.

For the 11th year this show, to be held May 22-23, has been planned as a public service for all residents of Warren county. There are no fees for exhibitors and no admission charged the public when it comes, later, to enjoy evidence of the talent that exists in Warren county.

The Woman's Club started holding such shows to encourage amateur artists by affording them opportunity to display their creative efforts, having them hung properly, and judged by well-known artists.

Awards are made in each class: Oil paintings, water colors, including pastels, and graphics (which include pen and ink, pencil or charcoal drawings, etchings, lithographs, or woodblock and linoleum block prints).

Pictures are all of original subjects, the rules specifying they must not be copies of others' photographs or paintings. Over the years the show has been held, the quality of work has been such that the 1957 show was described by one expert as being "amazingly good" with many pictures of such excellence they could well have been entered in a national show.

The Art Talent Recognition Show is open to every amateur artist; and May 22 is the date on which entries will be received at the Woman's Club.

WARREN CATHOLIC YOUTH COUNCIL

Next general meeting of Warren Catholic Youth Council will be held at 7:00 p. m. Monday in St. Joseph's Hall. After the meeting, there will be round and square dancing, with a box-lunch auction as a special intermission feature. The girls are all reminded to bring a lunch for two, wrapped, and with names inside.

All are urged to turn out for this meeting, since there is important business to be discussed. This month's session is in the hands of the physical committee and also marks the deadline for ordering pep shirts, CYC pins and emblems. Bellringers' Concert Is Rare Musical Treat

St. Paul's Lutheran church was filled to overflowing Sunday afternoon for the unusual musical treat afforded by the Bellringers of Jamestown, N. Y.

It was amazing to view the dexterity of performers in their use of the bells and to hear the beautiful bell-tones they produced. Soloists were very well received also. They were Miss Jeanne Morrell, soprano; Lois Johnson, violin; and Gayle Wettingfeld, oboe.

As Miss Morrell sang the oblique for several numbers by the Bellringers, one was fully aware of her abilities in the solo field. The violin solo, "The Holy City" by Adams was beautifully done by Miss Johnson, accompanied at the piano by Miss Florence Sandberg. The very difficult instrument, the oboe, was handled with sweetness of tone seldom heard, Miss Sandberg again at the piano for Miss Wettingfeld.

At the close of the program, Richard Sidey, organist and choir-master at Trinity Memorial Episcopal church, was at the organ for the Bell Symphony played by the Jamestown group. One could readily see why the Bellringers were so well received last summer in Chautauque amphitheatre where they are to appear again this summer.

Robert Stuart, director of the group, is to be congratulated on his ability to present such flawless work on these lovely but difficult bells.

To the Bellringers and all who attended the concert, making it such an outstanding event, the Dorcas Society of St. Paul's expresses its sincere thanks.

At the conclusion of the program, a light supper was served for the visiting artists.

MARTHA SOCIETY HAS PROGRAM-MEETING

Martha Society of St. Paul's Lutheran church had a good attendance for its regular meeting. President Allie Peterson presided and led devotions; Mrs. Robert Carlson gave the secretary's report. Mrs. Victor Anderson read the yearly treasurer's report. Many "thank you" notes were read from those who received Christmas cheer, members voted $10 to the March of Dimes, and decided to have a Lenten Tea in March.

The program included two songs by Albert Anderson, "I Come to the Garden of Old" and "Somewhere the Sun Is Shining"; readings, "A Christmas Party for the Men in the Boverly", and a poem, "You Don't Have To Tell It, It Shows in Your Face", Edna Lundahl.

Following the meeting, refreshments were served by Mrs. Edwin Carlson and Mrs. Robert Carlson.

MARY HARWOOD CIRCLE MEETING

Mary Harwood Circle of Grace Methodist church held its January meeting at the home of Mrs. Bert Erickson, 15 Franklin street with 12 members and one guest present. Devotions were given by Mrs. Helen Brydon and the business session was conducted by Eugenia Price. It was decided members should bring a gift, toys, etc., to be used in the Mary Harwood Children's Home. A letter was read from her and several snapshots showed the home and some of the children.

Miss Price reviewed the chapter on Africa from the study book, "Declaring His Glory", while members hummed diapers for the Boston Medical Dispensary. The meeting was concluded with serving of delicious refreshments by the hostess, assisted by Miss Price.

POP-BOTTLE DRIVE

The Nature Parent

Why Parents Feel 'Mean' When Cutting Junior's Cash

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

AT 17 Roy O. spends his parents' money too carelessly.

Except for his bedside lamp, he never turns lights off after using them. His cleaning bills are twice what they should be. Without notice he'll bring friends home after a party and feed them scrambled eggs and bacon that were to be his family's breakfast.

He pays back one advance on his allowance only to ask for another the following week. Sometimes when his father hands him the money, he'll protest jocularly, "You sure seem to think this stuff grows on trees, son."

The jocularly disguises Mr. O.'s fear of saying "No" to Roy's extravagances.

HE has to keep this fear disguised. A prosperous, self-made business man, Mr. O. feels an extravagant respect for money himself. When a successful competitor denies him some, he's furious. He indulges Roy's extravagance lest the boy feel the same resentment at him he feels at the competitor who says, "No, this profit is mine."

I think that many American parents share Mr. O.'s fear of restricting children's extravagance.

The idea of asking Roy to turn off the lights he's left blazing all over the house makes us feel uncomfortable. It seems "mean" to demand that he restrict his spending of our income. Why does it seem "mean"? Why should we expect Roy to feel abused by our restriction on his spending if we ourselves are content with our restricted spending?

If spending money has no magical meaning for us, we can restrict a child's spending of it as readily as we restrict his use of candy or TV.

BUT if having lots of money to spend is a symbol of success to us, we naturally feel "mean" when we deny extravagance to Roy. We resist reminding him of our financial limitations because we are too ashamed of them to want to be reminded of them ourselves.

This confusing of money with success makes a lot of trouble for parents.

Children sense it in us. Like Roy, they detect our fear of appearing a failure to them—and begin to treat our money carelessly. We feel increasing resentment of their extravagance. In the end all our apparent generosity gets us in their contempt for our fear of saying so.

Mrs. Neil Scott was in charge of the program, which included an article, "Parents Only"; Charlotte Prodelius told how to get legislation and read excerpts on the subject; Mrs. Richard Atkins read

"Moderation, Is It Safe?" Mrs. Craker

"Bars in Christian Homes", followed by discussion; Mrs. Allenson read from The Union Signal, "St. Peter, the Liquor Dealer and the Devil"; prayers were offered, the flag salute given. Mrs. Biehls gave the table prayer for refreshments.

Local BPW Members Have Prominent Part in Bradford Club Charter Night

Twenty-two members of Warren business and Professional Women's Club attended the Charter Dinner of the Bradford Federation of B. P. W. held at Hotel Emery, Bradford, Tuesday evening.

The new organization is sponsored by Warren B. P. W., and the dinner meeting was attended by officials of Bradford, representatives of service organizations, industry and utilities, as well as state officers of Business and Professional Women.

Miss Arvilla Ittel, District expansion chairman, and immediate past president of the local club, presided at the dinner. Following the invocation by the Rev. John D. Rupert, president of Bradford Ministerial Association, Mrs. Ruth Rapp, vice president of the Warren Club, led in the flag salute.

A delicious roast beef dinner was served at attractive tables, and Mrs. Marion Davis, president of the local club, extended the welcome. Mrs. Mary French, Oil City, introduced Federation guests, after which Miss Helen McEntee, Bradford, introduced guests from Bradford and vicinity. Greetings were extended by Mayor Hugh J. Ryan, Bradford, followed by three vocal solos by Dr. Andrew Johnson, with Robert Greeley as accompanist.

One disappointing feature of the evening was the inability of the state president, Mrs. Isabella Jones of Pittsburgh, to attend the meeting. Owing to unfavorable weather conditions, Mrs. Jones could not make the flight to Bradford.

However, in her absence, Mrs. Marjorie Tarbell of Corry presented the charter to Mrs. Cecile Bowers, president of the new Bradford Federation. The presentation preceded installation of officers by Mrs. Tarbell. Mrs. Mary Schriber, accompanied by Mrs. Margaret Stevens of Kane, sang the Collect. The gavel, gift of the Warren Club, was presented to Mrs. Bowers by Mrs. Davis and, for the closing of the program, the entire assembly sang the Emblem Benediction.

Those who attended the Warren B. P. W. were: Mrs. David, Mrs.

Modern Wives Find Little Challenge in Prepared Foods

A HOME economist says that, despite the rush of the food industry to get more and more ready-to-serve foods in the country's supermarkets, women are beginning to show a new interest in learning how to make the old-fashioned dishes that gave Grandma her reputation as a cook.

The home economist didn't explain why young Mrs. America is learning to bake bread, wants to know how to make the kind of soup that starts with buying a soup bone instead of opening a can, and has a sudden yen to be able to turn out a batch of fragrant doughnuts instead of picking up a dozen at the nearest bakery.

But I think I know why the easy-to-prepare or ready-for-the-oven foods are beginning to lose their appeal.

NO SATISFACTION

SERVING them may be quick and easy—but heating a prepared dish or sliding a pan of half-baked rolls into the oven doesn't give the housewife any sense of accomplishment or satisfaction.

Nor does the process of transferring food from a package to the table bring her any cheers from her family.

But let a housewife roll up her sleeves and go in for an old-fashioned session of cooking from scratch, tasting and testing as she goes, and right away the whole family gets interested.

When she cooks in the old-fashioned way she not only produces food that doesn't have a standardized taste, she is, in a sense, a creative artist. So it's not surprising that the family immediately gathers around to find out "what's cooking."

What comes in cans or in frozen packages can save off a family's hunger. But to arouse their interest in what's going on in the kitchen, a woman has to do more than heat-and-serve.

an interesting account of her visits to the European Music Festival, which was most enjoyable.

Catholic Court Plans Day of Recollection

Court Warren, Catholic Daughters of America, has completed plans for its Day of Recollection planned for Sunday, January 26, starting with the 8:00 a. m. mass at Holy Redeemer church.

The program proper will begin at 12:30 p. m., with devotions by the Rev. Charles Fehrenbach, CSS. RPHD. of North East, a Redemptorist father.

Due to unforeseen circumstances, the tea planned to follow the Day of Recollection has been canceled.

Players All Set For Murder Tale By Agatha Christie

Having enjoyed a delightful holiday hiatus, members of Warren Players Club are "back on the job" in production for the third season's show, the Agatha Christie spine-tingling, first-rate tale of murder and suspense, "Witness For the Prosecution," which will be presented in Woman's Club auditorium February 27-28, with curtain time at 8:30.

Rehearsals, under the direction of Marie Hamilton, are already under way, while busy backstage crews are doing a skillful job of set preparation.

Margaret Lewis has been named producer for this play, and working with her on the production end is Dick McCarthy, in charge of designing the set, while craftsmen Don Norris, Max Saunders, and Cliff Forsgren are manning the detail of set construction.

Betty Rice holds the book and will also be seen as the Court Stenographer in the play. Ralph O'Dell takes on "double duty" as he not only plays the role of Dr. Wyatt in the play, but will act as stage manager as well.

Chuck Barrett is assigned the duty of lighting, with Byron Knapp and Margaret Wright applying make-up for the limelight. Sally Lutz heads the hand prop committee, while veteran Helen Morrow is turning a hand with stage props, and cops the spotlight in the production, as she returns to the stage to play the role of Janet McKenzie.

Sunny Lucia and Alice Yurick are in charge of costuming the large cast, and Nancy Lee and Will Wakeley have volunteered to assist with the party planning.

Many interesting topics from The Methodist Woman were discussed by the group. The business session consisted mainly of reports from the various secretaries. Mrs. Lee Meley, secretary of spiritual life, asked that members keep in mind and heart the World Day of Prayer.

For Resort Wear: Roomy Handbags

They're Stylish And Carry Most Anything

BY GAILE DUGAS
NEA Women's Editor

NEW YORK — (NEA) — The roomier a handbag is, the better an American girl is apt to like it.

It no longer really matters if the girl is small; she carries a catch-all anyway.

This is a fact that handbag designers have latched onto and their designs for resort wear are intended to hold everything a girl could possibly want to carry. Actually, some of these bags could double on occasion as overnight bags since they're roomy enough to hold a nightgown, make-up and toothbrush.

They're done in handsome combinations of linen and leather, hemp and leather, wicker and leather. They sport fancy catches, roomy outside pockets for glasses and cigarettes, over-arm handles and colorful linings.

We show here two resort designs by Parklane. Soft and supple bag (left) is in cowhide and hemp, and in black-and-gray combination. It wipes clean with a damp cloth.

Wicker basket handbag (right) is fine for winter or summer vacations, for the commuter crowd and suburbanites. It's lined in linen and trimmed with soft leather. We show it in bone color with black trim.

Officers Elected At Agricultural Extension Meeting

Approximately seventy persons attended the Annual Agricultural Extension Association Meeting held Wednesday at the White Way Drive Inn, according to word received from the Extension Office.

Following the dinner the election of officers was held with Wallace Barlow, Sugar Grove, being reelected president; Marshall Danielson, Pittsfield, Mrs. Ethel Peterson, Garland, and Robert Rowland, Youngsville, elected as vice presidents; Mrs. Lois Darling, Chandler's Valley, and D. H. Lay, Youngsville elected secretary and treasurer respectively.

Charles Porter, agricultural economist, and Katherine Love, home economist, both from the Pennsylvania State University, presented a program on consumer buying habits and new food packaging trends which result in more convenience and time savings for the homemaker but with increased costs to her.

This increase in packaging and handling costs mean that the farmer gets less of the customer's dollar spent for food on a percentage basis but may mean a larger volume of product sold in the long run.

Associate Agent Bernard Wingert, and Home Economist Mrs. Geraldine Johnston presented their annual reports in booklet form for the convenience of those in attendance. H. K. Anders, assistant director of extension in northwestern Pennsylvania, spoke briefly on the changes constantly taking place within the county and the adjustments that Extension must make to carry on an educational program which will meet the needs of all the people.

Decentralization Policy of Sylvania Electric Described

Increased emphasis by Sylvania Electric Products, Inc., on its long-established policy of decentralization of managerial authority and accountability has been announced by Don G. Mitchell, Sylvania chairman and president.

Giving major credit to the company's policy of decentralization for a four-fold increase in sales during the past ten years, Mr. Mitchell said the increased emphasis on decentralization is aimed toward "assuring that the company takes the fullest possible advantage of the unprecedented growth opportunities in the electrical-electronics industry." He pointed out that the company's sales were approximately $380 million last year, and that "our budget for 1958 is based on an upturn in the second half. We believe the anticipated upward trend will result in new record levels of business activity for Sylvania and the rest of the industry."

Mr. Mitchell announced that eight Vice Presidents have been elected to the newly-created post of Senior Vice President. "These senior officers comprise a management team, the individual members of which have been assigned full responsibility for the profitability and continued progress of a major operating area or a group of related areas, or have responsibility for major corporate staff activities," the Sylvania chief executive said.

(Sylvania, with 45 plants and 20 laboratories in 38 communities in 13 states, is engaged in the fields of lighting, television-radio, electronics, photography, atomic energy and chemistry-metallurgy. It has more than 27,000 employees).

In addition to being elected senior vice presidents of the company, two of the officers were appointed to the newly-created post of president of their operating divisions, which represent the company's two largest product areas. Matthew D. Burns was appointed President of Sylvania Electronic Tubes, with headquarters in Emporium, Pa., and Frank J. Healy was appointed President of Sylvania Lighting Products, with headquarters in Salem, Mass. Mr. Mitchell said other divisions of the company are expected to expand in line with the growth of the electrical-electronics industry and gradually attain volume comparable with Lighting Products and Electronic Tubes.

The other senior vice presidents and their areas of responsibility are: Dr. Bennett E. Ellefson, engineering and research, as well as over-all responsibility for the company's Research Laboratories; W. Benton Harrison, finance; Robert E. Lewis, Argus Cameras and Semiconductor Products; Marion E. Pettigrew, Home Electronics, Chemical and Metallurgical Products, and Parts; Howard L. Richardson, Electronic Systems and Special Tubes; Barton K. Wickstrum, marketing, as well as over-all responsibility for International Operations.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

BEST ATTACK

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

East's hand really calls for a pass in third seat but match point duplicate players just don't pass 12-point hands in this position. He opened one club and passed his partner's one spade response. South refused to be shut out and went to one no-trump. North chose to raise to two no-trump and that became the final contract.

West opened a club. East ducked and South won the trick with the jack. He knocked out West's ace of hearts next and West returned a small spade. East won with the ace and led back the ten. West gathered in South's jack with his queen.

Now West made the killing play. He shifted to a diamond. This play established two diamond tricks for East and set the two no-trump contract one trick.

East and West thought they had a good score. North could have made three hearts and the best they could have done was to make two spades. It turned out that they had a bad score and it was all East's fault.

East had violated an important principle of duplicate which is that if you are going to open a poor hand in third seat attack with your best suit. East should have opened one spade.

West would have raised to two spades and North and South would have been nicely shut out of the bidding.

The defense could have gone in any one of a number of ways and did at the other tables where East opened one spade but in all cases when the smoke of the battle had cleared away East had made two spades for a plus of 110 instead of 100.

Q—The bidding has been:
West North East South
1 ♣ Double Redbl. Pass
2 ♣ Pass Pass ?
You, South, hold:
♠ 5 3 2 ♥ A 7 6 ♦ 9 3 2 ♣ A 9 4 3
What do you do?
A—Pass. You would like to compete since your two aces must mean that your side can afford to compete but you just don't have anything to bid. You have probably been fixed but it is not serious.

TODAY'S QUESTION
You hold the same hand and the bidding has been the same except that your partner has doubled a second time after West's two-diamond bid. What do you do now?

Student From Philippines Enjoys Wintry Weather

(By Judy Whiteshot)

Vilumin Benedicto, Warren High School's first exchange student, has this to say about the weather. "I like it very much! It was a big surprise to me because it wasn't as bad as I had expected." Ice skating is also something new for Vil and she says it's "lots of fun," however, she's still not sure about it. When asked what her main impression of the United States was, Vil replied, "It's wonderful and I like it very much." She thinks the people of Warren and the students in W.H.S. are "quite friendly." Vil comes from a high school in La Carlota which is about the same size as Warren High School, the only difference being that in the Philippines she had different courses in different buildings. Vil is taking the academic course this year in which she is studying English, Spanish, Chemistry, Home Economics, speech, choir, typing, and gymnasium. She lists chemistry as her hardest subject.

Vil's extra curricular activities include being an honorary member of every club in Warren High School. She is secretary of the Spanish Club, co-president of the Choralists, and a member of the Student Council, the organization which sponsored the idea of an exchange student.

With sewing as one of her hobbies Vilumin has made three party dresses and several skirts since she came to Warren to live with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ross and their twin daughters, Patty and Pris in North Warren.

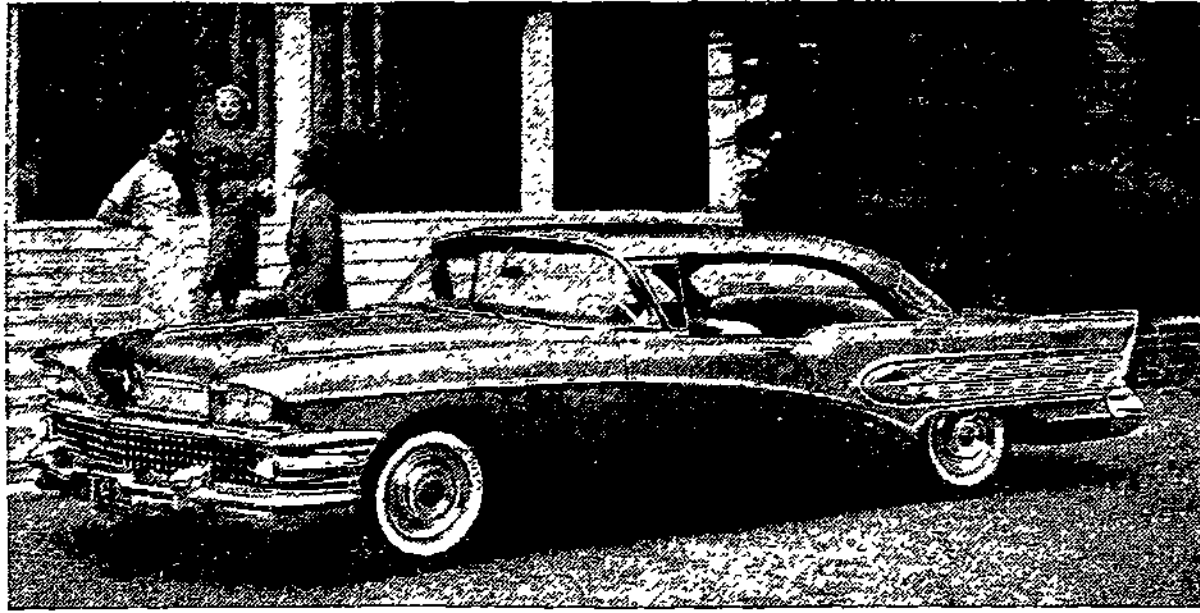

As part of her duties as an exchange student Vil has spoken to many organizations about her home in the Philippines. To date she has been guest speaker at Y-Teens, Girl Scouts, Warren General Hospital Christmas Party, German Club Banquet, the Rotary Club, the Ruth Bible Class of the First Lutheran Church, and the Future Homemakers of America sub-regional convention at Clarion-Limestone High School. Speaking engagements for Vil can be made with Mrs. Robert H. Alexander or Mrs. James Francis by calling them at 1676 or 3904 respectively.

Vil has attended one International Youth Forum in Fredonia, New York and will attend one in Jamestown, N. Y. and one in Randolph, N. Y. in the near future. She has also visited Muskingum College in New Concord, Ohio, where she slept in a bunk bed for the first time, in the top bed.

To acquaint her with the industries of Warren, Mrs. Paul Harrington has been scheduling tours for her. With Jane Harrington Vil has visited the United Refinery

New Buick Special for 1958

THE BOLD LINES OF BUICK'S 1958 styling are exemplified in the luxury and beauty of the Buick Special, the big volume seller in the Buick line. Dual headlights and a dazzling new grille add breadth and lowness to the front end design. The Special, which is mounted on a 122-inch wheelbase, boasts new and bigger brakes, and exquisite new interiors that complement the glamorous exterior colors. The new miracle air ride and either variable pitch or the revolutionary flight pitch Dynaflo are optional equipment on the Special series which comes in seven models.

and New Process. She will visit Anderson's Baking Company and hopes to visit the Bell Telephone.

Here under the auspices of the American Field Service, Vil is one of 1039 exchange students from over 30 countries in the United States this year. When the program began in 1947 there were only 51 exchange students. In Pennsylvania alone there are 310 students this year.

Mr. Matthew Hosie, vice-principal of Warren High School, is the chairman of the local American Field Service Committee. Members of the committee are Mr. Robert Wilson, Reverend Bruce R. Ryan, Mrs. Paul Harrington who is in charge of arranging tours, and Mrs. Robert H. Alexander and Mrs. James Francis who are scheduling speaking engagements for Vil.

Youngsville Cubs Receive Awards

Youngsville-Cub Scout Pack 30 held an interesting and enjoyable meeting Monday evening in the school cafeteria. Den 3 opened the meeting with the Pledge of Allegiance and closed it by leading the Cub Scout Song.

Cubmaster William Shine announced the Blue and Gold dinner for February 17, and the Recognition Dinner January 27. He also spoke of the membership drive soon to be conducted by Chief Cornplanter Council, saying letters will be sent to all parents explaining it.

Dens 1 and 3 tied for the attendance award; because Den 3 had already had it once this year, it was given to Den 1.

Lively skits were presented by the Dens: Den 1, a television panel program, "The Price is Wrong"; Den 2 told how it had made a movie camera; Den 3 presented a "West Point Drill"; Den 4 reenacted the Battle of Lexington; Den 6 presented an old time movie, "The Perils of Pauline." Because of the illness of Dr. Gettings, Mrs. Gettings was unable to complete Den 5's skit.

Cub awards were presented to the following:

Dinner bar--Terry Reynolds; assistant dinner bar--Donald Loomis; Bob Cat pins--Tom Meabon, James Meabon; Wolf badge--Terry Tellman; gold and silver arrow--Albert Walton.

Bear badge, gold and silver arrow--Jeff Barton, Jeff Font; silver arrow--George Yucha, Terry Caldwell, Craig Dinny, Pat Shine; gold arrow--Robert Lohnes; gold and silver arrow, assistant dinner bar, Donald Kellerman.

HOW TO ROAST LONG ISLAND DUCKLING
First, completely thaw. Roasting time is based on ready-to-cook duckling which has been allowed to reach room temperature. Roast unstuffed or filled with your favorite stuffing. Fold neck skin under back and fasten with skewer. Close vent by lacing string around small skewers inserted from side to side. Place on rack in shallow pan in moderate oven. Roast for 2 1/2 to 3 1/2 hours depending on the size of the duckling. To determine whether the meat is thoroughly cooked, more the drumstick gently... it should move easily and the skin will be nicely browned and crisp.

Town in Michigan Finds Program to Curb Motorcyclists

Young motorcycle and motor scooter enthusiasts came in for considerable discussion in Michigan recently, but it took a police commissioner to do something about their driving habits.

Police Commissioner Dallas F. Hay, of Livonia, Mich. (population, 17,534) proposed that a city sponsored club be organized for the young cyclists of the fast growing Detroit suburb.

The club, known as the Young Cyclists Club, evolved from a meeting of police chiefs from neighboring communities.

Membership in the club now totals 30 and Commissioner Hay believes it will soon number more than 100 members, all of whom must adhere to three basic rules:

1. Be a safe operator and obey all traffic rules and regulations.
2. Stunt or trick riding except during authorized contests is banned.
3. Club members must aid any stranded motorist on the road.

Hay also believes that the young cyclists could be used as messengers in the event of any emergency.

If the club is a success, Hay hopes it will be a model for other communities in Michigan and throughout the country.

Keystone Garage to Show Line Of the 1958 Hillman Autos

Keystone Garage of Warren, authorized as local dealers for Hillman cars will be ably represented at the auto show.

Marking the start of its second half-century of auto making, Rootes Motors Ltd. of England is introducing its new 1958 Hillman cars with an appropriate jubilee fanfare. Known as the 'Jubilee' Hillmans, the newly restyled line of cars, including a four-door station wagon, a convertible and a four-door sedan will be in the hands of Rootes East Coast dealers from here on.

New "Jubilee" Hillmans feature a boost in torque which results in stepped-up performance in the lower speed range, with no loss in operating economy; a completely restyled front end, new range of colors and interior trims; and new "finger-tip" steering.

As an important part of the Hillman "Jubilee" Celebration, a group of 96 American Hillman dealers has flown to London where they will attend the first unveiling of the new cars, visit the British Auto Show, and study British production and selling methods. Many of the dealers plan to take delivery of new Hillman models in England on their tour of the British Isles after visiting the Rootes factories.

Handful of Major Contests Loom on Schoolboy Schedule

Harrisburg, (P)—As league action nears the half-way mark, a handful of major contests looms on the Pennsylvania schoolboy basketball scene.

Here is the picture by region:

Dist. 6 — Reigning champ Altoona meets its traditional rival Johnstown for the second time this season on Friday.

Dist. 7 — Sharon, still powerful (WPIAL champion), took another close one to stay in the black in its campaign, beating Ellwood City 47-43. Farrell, meanwhile, met defeat at the hands of Aliquippa, 68-56. On the basis of Sharon's 54-37 win over Aliquippa, it should have no trouble taking Farrell tomorrow.

Dist. 10 — Erie Strong Vincent, defeated Erie Prep, which handed it a 58-54 loss earlier in the season. Titusville crushed Grove City for the second time this year, 64-46.

In the east:

Titusville crushed Grove City for the second time this year, 64-46.

In the east:

Dist. 1 — Chester, the runner-up state champion, went out of its district Tuesday and received a 75-69 defeat at the hands of Bethlehem, Dist. 11 contender. Chester will be back in the district tomorrow against Cheltenham.

Dist. 2 — Plymouth held on to the Wyoming Valley League lead by defeating Wilkes-Barre Meyers, 84-54. Nanticoke, the district champ, stayed in second place, beating Wilkes-Barre G.A.R., 37-23.

North League champion Swoyersville romped over Sugar Notch, 66-48.

Dist. 3 — Central Penn League titleholder Reading plays undefeated York tomorrow.

Carlisle stayed undefeated in South Penn League play, racking up its sixth straight by 61-43 over Hershey.

Dist. 4 — Coal Twp. held its Keystone League edge by a 45-43 win over Mount Carmel.

Dist. 11 — District King Allentown took Bethlehem Catholic, 63-53, but the real test is tomorrow night against Bethlehem.

Lehigh Valley League champion Palmerton took Northampton, 48-41.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

By The Associated Press

Miami Beach, Fla.—Bobby Boyd, 161, Chicago, and Holly Mims, 156, Washington, drew, 10.

Billings, Mont.—Lou Bailey, 167, Peoria, Ill., outpointed Jim Hagler, 182, St. Paul, 10.

Speaking of Sports ...

In analyzing the Warren victory over the Owls at Bradford Tuesday evening, it might be said no one player can be singled out as the hero. It was a good example of five players working together on both offense and defense. However, one must admire the general all-around play of Nicky Creola, who amazed the fans with his hustle, rebounding and shooting; Mike Cashman who filled in capably; doing a nice job on Graham, Bradford's scoring threat; Nick Monroe, whose clutch shooting and key passes aided materially in the win; Bill Grumagin's fine set shooting and rebounding, and Don McKelvey, subbing for Karkosky, who shot nicely and rebounded like a demon. No individual stars — a team triumph — the end result of purposeful practice.

14 PIRATES IN FOLD

Pittsburgh (P)—The Pittsburgh Pirates have 14 players in the fold for 1958 following the signing of two pitchers. Returning contracts yesterday were reliever Roy Face who posted a 4-6 record with the Pirates last year and Ron Blackburn who turned in a 9-13 record with Columbus of the International League.

SPEEDWAY REMINDER

A Roll-O-Bowl Speedway meeting will be held at 8:00 p. m. Saturday at the Handy Grocery Store in Watts Flats. All drivers and mechanics are urged to be on hand, since rules will be set up at this time for the 1958 season.

FAMILY AFFAIR—Ralph Houk sets out with the family for a fishing expedition on Crooked Lake, near Lake Wales, Fla. In the boat are, left to right, Bobby, 8; Donna, 16; Mrs. Houk; and Dick, 14. Big Boy, the family pooch, goes along. Houk, who managed Denver, succeeds Bill Dickey as coach of the New York Yankees. Bears won Little World Series.

Auburn Upset May Prove Good Thing for Georgia Tech

By ED WILKS

The Associated Press

It might sound screwy, but maybe Georgia Tech has lost just in time to win college basketball. Could be the 80-72 upset by Auburn last night was just what Tech needed before taking on Kentucky and Tennessee, ranked 1-2 in the Southeastern Conference, this weekend.

The defeat didn't hurt the Yellowjackets (10-6). It was a non-conference game. But it should have ploughed under any signs of complacency that may have cropped up after four consecutive victories.

There already had been some talk Tech might be ready to have a giant upset. Vanderbilt Coach Bob Polk, beaten 81-60 by Tech last Saturday, was so impressed he figured Tech could beat Tennessee Saturday and then take Kentucky Monday.

That double whammy would hoist Tech from third (4-2) to second in SEC play. Kentucky is the leader at 5-0 with Tennessee second at 3-1.

The upset came on a light night that also saw St. Bonaventure defeat Niagara 69-66 and Duquesne whip Toledo 67-54.

A great floor game and a 30-point scoring touch by Jimmy Lee paid off for Auburn, now 6-6.

Rex Frederick, Auburn's free thrower tied 40-all with a free throw and seconds later gave Auburn the lead for keeps with a field goal just before he fouled out.

Terry Randall kept Tech in the game until the closing minutes. He was high for the Engineers with 20 points. Soph Dave Denton, who has sparked Tech's surge since regaining his eligibility, scored 19.

The schedule — marking time during mid-term examinations — picks up a bit tonight. The feature game is Wichita at Bradley in a Missouri Valley Conference game. Wichita is the leader at 3-0 with Bradley, ranked 10th nationally, third at 6-1.

Bears and Barons Closely Bunched in American League

By The Associated Press

Only five points separate the pace setting Hershey Bears and the second place Cleveland Barons in the American Hockey League tonight but the big battle is a three-way affair for the fourth and last playoff position.

Following Springfield's 5-2 victory over Buffalo last night in one of the league's two games, the Bisons hold the fourth spot by a margin of only one point over deadlocked Rochester and Springfield.

In the circuit's other game, the Bears and Providence played a 2-2 overtime tie.

All of the scoring in the Hershey-Providence game was confined to the first period but there was plenty of action in the second as Ivan Irwin of Providence and Larry Zeidel of Hershey sparked a free-for-all. Each drew a 10-minute misconduct penalty.

Bruce Cline and Jimmy Larivee produced the Red's goals and Ed Stankiewicz and Willie Marshall of the Bears matched them.

Basilio and Sugar Ray Are Expected To Sign Up Today

Chicago (P)—Champion Carmen Basilio and Sugar Ray Robinson are to sign formally today for their March 25 middleweight uncorere.

The rematch, which will mark the fifth time the 37-year-old Robinson will be fighting for the 160-pound crown, is being heralded by the International Boxing Club as a million-dollar show.

The IBC looks for theater television proceeds to exceed $275,000, a gross attendance of $500,000 based on 19,000 guests, $100,000 for movie rights and $30,000 from radio receipts.

Basilio, who lifted the middleweight crown from Robinson on a split decision Sept. 23 in Yankee Stadium, will get 30 per cent of everything. So will Robinson. Figuring a net gate of about $467,000, each expects to pocket nearly $262,000.

Sugar Ray won the 160-pound belt at Chicago Stadium in 1951 by stopping Jake LaMotta, defended it there in 1952 with a third round knockout of Rocky Graziano and climaxed a comeback there in 1955 by chilling Bobo Olson in the fifth to regain the title.

He regained it again at Chicago Stadium last May with a fifth round kayo of Gene Fullmer. He also lost and regained the championship from Randy Turpin.

Stage Is Set for Rematch of Boyd and Holly Mims

Miami Beach, Fla. (P)—The stage was set today for a rematch between Holly Mims, veteran Washington scrapper, and Bobby Boyd, lanky puncher from Chicago, to decide which of these two mediocre middleweights is the better.

Mims and Boyd fought to a draw in the Auditorium Arena last night. Promoter Chris Dundee said later, "I'd love to rematch them."

Neither fighter was badly damaged in the 10-round scrap. Boyd hit the canvas in the middle of the eighth round after a solid right to the chin.

Mims, who had not fought since April, said he was tense and needed a warmup.

Mims weighed 156 to Boyd's 161½. He crouched and ducked and tied up his taller foe with arm locks that kept Referee Eddie Coachman busy separating them.

Williams Insists No Bones Broken in Fishing Accident

Boston, (P)—Ted Williams and two doctors have quashed reports that the 39-year-old Boston Red Sox slugger's baseball career is endangered by broken ankle bones.

Williams told Boston sports writers by phone from his Florida home yesterday that he sprained the ankle on a fishing trip in Labrador last fall. He flatly denied any bones were broken.

A report in the Boston Traveler had said his future baseball status was "in jeopardy" because of two small broken bones in his right ankle.

The 1957 American League batting king said the ankle still is a little sore, but he expects to be ready for the 1958 season.

Ted was backed up by Dr. George Bennett of Baltimore and Dr. Russell Sullivan of Boston, who viewed X-rays of the tender ankle.

Williams said he taped the ankle after the sprain, but he suffered a little pain when he jogged or ran.

Win Streak of Syracuse Nationals Comes to End

By The Associated Press

The Syracuse Nationals and the Detroit Pistons of the National Basketball Assn. can testify today that there is an end to all good things, especially when you do not have the answer to 33-point quarters.

The Nationals saw their 13-game winning streak at home snapped last night as the Cincinnati Royals poured 33 points through the basket in the third period and went on to a 115-109 victory.

The New York Knickerbockers also tossed 33-point second and third quarters at the Pistons for a 115-92 decision and the end of a home floor winning string that had reached six games.

Meanwhile, the Boston Celtics continued to make hay while the sun shines at Minneapolis, coming from behind for 97-87 verdict and their ninth straight victory at the expense of the Lakers.

Texas A. & M. Pulls Surprise in Hunt for Football Coach

College Station, Tex., (P)—Texas A. & M. College pulled the biggest surprise of its widespread hunt for a football coach yesterday.

It hired Jim Myers of Iowa State, a single-wing stylist who was rejected when first nominated.

Numerous other coaches had been mentioned as a possible successor to Paul (Bear) Bryant, who returned to Alabama, his alma mater.

The 51-day search for a coach and athletic director erupted into controversy between Aggie officials who seemed ready to interview anyone who would take the trip to Texas and alumni groups angered by what they considered bad publicity.

Two students, Gary Rollins of Houston, Tex., and Cadet Col. John Hagler, La. Grande, Tex., were credited with a key role in getting Myers to change his mind and accept the $18,000-a-year post, which also includes rent-free use of a house. He was given a four-year contract.

Dictator

Officers who took part in the short-lived New Year's revolt restored to their ranks. Punishments against them were canceled.

Censorship was lifted.

Political exiles abroad made plans to return to their homeland.

Celebrating thousands jammed the streets of Caracas. They cheered wildly, waved Venezuelan flags and honked horns. Flag-waving students, the most publicly vocal of the ousted dictator's opponents, congregated in front of the statue of Simon Bolivar, the South American liberator.

The government radio network appealed repeatedly for the crowds to return to work and clear the streets.

The radio urged oil workers to remain calm and continue at their jobs.

The State Department in Washington said it had no reports of any injuries to the 40,000 Americans in Venezuela. American investments in the oil and other industries there total more than three billion dollars.

The overthrow of Perez Jimenez followed a brief air force revolt New Year's Day, ensuing weeks of mounting tension and student demonstrations, a general strike which began Tuesday and the violence of the past two days.

Three Men

The jail break meant an automatic parole violation and with it an end to suspension of one to five years in Western Penitentiary levied against the three for burglarizing Pine Woods Tavern, now open only Fridays and Saturdays.

A fourth member of the holdup gang, Arthur Gilliland, 18, of Oil City, was given six months in Allegheny County Workhouse for his part in the burglary. A girl, Marjorie Roydas, 18, of Titusville, was given a suspended sentence of one year for serving as lookout.

The sentence was lightly applied in Pennsylvania so the trio would be allowed to face more serious charges of armed robbery in New York State. On Dec. 4, a day after the Pine Woods job, the trio held up Shiloh Bakery in Sherman, N. Y., pistol-whipped the baker, and escaped with $24.60. They had been charged with first degree armed robbery in New York State which meant a possible ten years imprisonment when they made their escape attempt. Extradition proceedings were dropped when the trio broke jail.

Maximum sentence on both prison breach and assaulting an officer is ten years; according to Sheriff Larry Linder and Deputy Don Allen who were present for the arraignment.

an outright act of political expediency. He has indeed provided barren soil for the seed of his own political integrity. I am in the fight to stay and if Gov. Leader wants to make a free-riding contest of it, I accept the challenge."

McGonigle, chairman of the Republican State Finance Committee, announced his availability in a letter to GOP county chairmen, vice chairmen and members of the state committee. He emphasized, however, that he was asking for "counsel and advice" before definitely saying whether he will seek the nomination.

William S. Livergood Jr., Somerset County, former state secretary of internal affairs, formally announced his candidacy for the GOP nomination Tuesday night. Allegheny County Commissioner John M. Walker, former state senator, is the only other person to declare for the GOP nomination.

ations, Eisenhower recommended that they be made subject to losing all rights and privileges under federal labor relations laws, to having their existing bargaining rights revoked, and to forfeiting the tax exemptions all unions now enjoy, if they fail to file true data.

The reports would be required from all unions, including those not now subject to the Taft-Hartley Act such as the railroad and airline unions. The rule would also apply to such unions as the United Mine Workers which has not availed itself of the National Labor Relations Board.

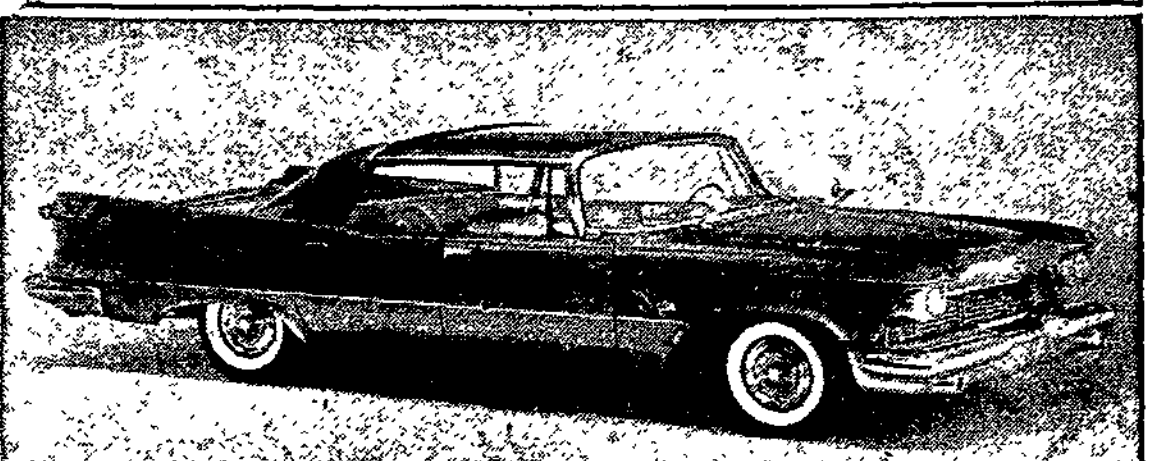

The Taft-Hartley Act already calls for certain data from unions, but unions do not have to file the reports unless they want to use the NLRB.

Greensburg (P)—Patrick J. McShane, who recently resigned as Westmoreland County superintendent of the state highways department, says he will seek the state senate seat to be vacated by Congressman-elect John Dent.

McShane, a Scottsdale Democrat, made the announcement last night. Dent made preparations to go to Washington Monday to be sworn into the House.

Harrisburg (P)—The Hoskey Cancer Clinic, emerging from an unsuccessful legal battle with the federal government, today faced a new effort to put it out of business, this time from the state. The State Board of Osteopathic Examiners yesterday cited the clinic's two osteopaths, Drs. Harold F. Galbraith and Harry A. Stegman, on charge of unethical conduct. They were ordered to answer the charges before the board at a hearing here Feb. 19. If the board upholds its citation, the osteopaths could be deprived of their licenses to practice.

Cameras Will Be Barred From Dean Trial in Franklin

Despite international attention focusing on the trial, there will be no pictures allowed in Franklin court room beginning next Monday when Lydia Dean faces a murder charge.

Venango County Presiding Judge Lee A. McCracken said Wednesday "I realize this case is attracting national and international attention, but I will insist on utmost decorum."

Judge McCracken said this would mean no photographs, no television cameras and no recording devices inside the court room.

Until the jury is chosen, the judge has stated he will allow only 100 spectators in the court room. "No jampacking" says Judge McCracken.

President Judge Alexander C. Flick, Jr. in Warren County has taken an opposite view to Judge McCracken in the matter of photography. Considering newly developed fast films which allow indoor photography without use of flash, Judge Flick allowed pictures to be taken during both the Moon trial and later the Swartz Tidoute bank robbery trial.

"The court performs vital function," observed Judge Flick. "Any method whereby the public is able to obtain a clearer view of its proceedings should be permitted."

On Dec. 7, 1957, Mrs. Dean slew her husband while he slept at his parent's home in Pleasantville. When apprehended she told a pitiful story of being alone in this country and how her husband returned from a tour of duty in England and badgered the Filipino war bride for a divorce.

Her mother has arrived from the Philippines to be with her during the trial. Attorneys donated their services to Lydia. The 21-year-old mother of Phyllis, 3, has been visited by the Philippine general consul of New York. Said he: "She is receiving excellent treatment. She has very competent counsel and I have no doubt that justice will be done."

BLAIR CO. MURDER TRIAL

Holidaysburg, Pa., (P)—Only the selection of an alternate juror remained today before testimony opens at the second murder trial for Glenn A. Leamer in Blair County Criminal Court. The state charges the 33-year-old Holidaysburg resident fatally struck his grandfather, Samuel Leamer, 92, during an alleged robbery attempt at the aged man's home in Frankstown Nov. 22, 1955. Leamer has pleaded innocent. At his first trial last year Leamer pleaded guilty to a general charge of murder and was sentenced to the electric chair. The conviction was reversed later.

Forty and Eight Founded in Paris in February 1919, at Behest of Lt. Col. Roosevelt

What is this Forty and Eight? Perhaps some actually know outside its membership. Unofficially, however, there are a number of citizens and even a large number of legionnaires, who have no idea of the purpose for the existence of the Forty and Eight.

When twenty young American officers met in Paris one night in February 1919 at the behest of Lt. Col. Theodore Roosevelt, they had no idea that a Forty and Eight would someday be created. Their sole thought was the creation of an association of United States veterans who served in World War I... so that memories and incidents would forever be preserved. And this was born The American Legion.

With the development of the Legion came more ideas. Many veterans wanted to remember the France to another in small boats which were labeled to hold forty men or eight horses. They wanted to preserve the memory of France and gradually they began to develop the idea of creating an organization within the American Legion which would invite within its ranks outstanding Legionnaires who had performed outstanding service within the American Legion. It was to be in fact, an HONOR Society for distinguished Legionnaires.

Although early in its history the Forty and Eight provided a playground for The American Legion members, but soon discovered that having fun for fun's sake was not enough and came of age by deciding that the best way to have fun was in working for others.

The job began to include aid for children of veterans who were deprived of actual necessities and since that time on a national scale has poured a total of $910,000 into the Child Welfare program.

Forty and Eighters have helped enroll new Legionnaires helped stamp out diphtheria in 1948 by shipping needed serum wherever needed, and conducting a great educational campaign until the dread disease was knocked for a loop; sent playing cards by the thousands to fighting forces serving during World War II, after the second bloody world war, 40 et 8 members were waiting to lend a helping hand to the wounded and sick who came home.

Noting the dire need for more nurses in hospitals everywhere, the Forty and Eight stepped into the picture to launch a Nurses Training program and since that time more than 2000 young nurses have been graduated and have taken their places in hospitals or other fields of nursing.

This Forty and Eight is a group of men, one for all, all for one and all for America. It is a fighting, hard-working, fun-loving organization of real Americans, tempered in the crucible of war, softened by love of people and dedicated to service.

Oldsmobile Dealer Invites Everyone To View New Car

Carlson Motors, Warren's Oldsmobile dealer invites everyone to view the styling and engineering advances at the Auto Show.

Oldsmobile has completely restyled its 1958 model with an overall appearance change that is embodied in the dramatic new "mobile look". The General Motors division also has introduced a true air suspension system, newly efficient and economical Rocket engines and an improved Jetaway Hydra-Matic Drive.

Oldsmobile's styling changes include an entirely re-designed body, new rear quarter panels, a new front end with recess-type grille and four-beam headlamps, one-piece rear window with greater glass area and new rear deck and roof. The decorative trim on the side panels accentuates the length,

Distinctive Styling Features 1958 Oldsmobile

Oldsmobile for 1958 offers a completely restyled body. The distinctive styling in this Super "88" Holiday sedan harmoniously employs horizontal trim to emphasize its long, flowing lines and low silhouette. Dominant in Oldsmobile's 1958 styling are striking twin blades that sweep down the rear fender crown. The enlarged rear window extends 2 1/2 inches into the new thin-line roof. The massive rear bumper has unique twin back-up lights at each extremity, with twin emblems and the Oldsmobile name on the rear deck. Choice of three Rocket engines with improved economy is offered in the 1958 Oldsmobile, which has a smoother Jetaway Hydra-Matic transmission and New-Matic Ride, a new concept of air suspension, available as desirable options.

Oldsmobile for 1958 offers three different Rocket engines in its three series of cars. The economy-priced Dynamic "88" series is powered by an engine with the new "econ-o-way" dual carburetor and is rated at 265 horsepower. The Super "88" and "98" series both have the Rocket engine with quad-jet carburetor and developing 305 h.p.

flowing lines and low silhouette of the new Oldsmobile.

"Practically everything that you can see in the 1958 Oldsmobile is new," says Jack F. Wolfgram, Oldsmobile general manager and vice president of General Motors. "We believe this car is a worthy culmination of 60 years of progressive product leadership and a fitting car to help General Motors mark its Golden Anniversary in 1958."

Oldsmobile has 16 body styles for 1958. The "98" series has four body types—two hardtops, Holiday sedan and Holiday coupe, a four-door sedan and a convertible. There are five body styles in the Super "88" Series—Holiday sedan, Holiday coupe, four-door sedan, convertible coupe and Fiesta station wagon. The budget-priced Dynamic "88" Series offers a wide range of seven body selections—Holiday sedan, Holiday coupe, two-door sedan, four-door sedan, Fiesta, Fiesta sedan and convertible.

Oldsmobile's new 1958 styling starts at the four-beam headlamps in the front and extends to the new and larger taillights. Two headlamps are recessed and placed side-by-side in each front fender. The recess-type grille is composed of anodized aluminum louvers with an Oldsmobile emblem at the center. Rectangular parking lights are integrated in the outer ends of the front bumper.

An outstanding feature about the Oldsmobile—designed New-Matic ride is the variable rate air spring system which cushions the shock of bumpy road conditions without excessive movement.

This unique air-ride design is a "closed" system. When new air is required moisture, oil-vapor and dust are eliminated by a special air filter and oil filter which enable the valves to function properly under all operating conditions.

Cold weather operation of Jetaway Hydra-Matic Drive has been improved through addition of two new automatic thermostats so that the transmission operates just as smoothly at low temperatures as at operating temperature.

Locomotive Steam Car King of Roads For Over 50 Years

One Sunday morning in the year 1902, W. M. Letts, a well-known English motorist of the day, stood on the corner of Fifth Avenue and 42nd street in New York City, watching the motor traffic pass by. From 11 a. m. to 1 p. m. he counted forty automobiles, twenty steamers, twelve electrics and eight gasoline cars.

At that time the steam car was king in the United States, and best known of the lot was the Locomobile.

The history of the Locomobile is lengthy and fascinating and even in this streamlined, jet-propelled age, the word Locomobile conjures up a happy vision of a less-heckled era of the past even as it takes a prominent place in the present as a collector's item.

The Locomobile was a smashing success both at home and abroad, Rudyard Kipling being among those who owned the "chuffing tea-pot". Through the years many improvements were perfected, but there was a slow end of the long life of the quality built car. The name Locomobile no longer suggested smartness or up-to-date-ness; it became just another high-powered, high-priced car.

The motoring public sooner or later separates cars into two groups, one comprised of a few, energetic, colorful, desirable products, and the other a heap of also-ians. In its thirty years from 1899 to 1929, the Locomobile illustrated better than almost any other make the development of the American automotive industry and market.

At the annual Auto Show, however, the Locomobile will star again! Patrons will have the extreme privilege of seeing first hand, the 1919 Locomobile, loaned for the occasion by William Crosssett, its proud owner. Appearing at Antique Auto Club meetings, this handsome model has placed high in the entry field and is bound to lend considerable distinction to the auto show display.

NOT FOR SALE—Handmade and prized beyond price is this tiny race car, the work of Philip Miller, left, and William Geyer, of Upper Arlington, Ohio, a suburb of Columbus. It is a gleaming two-thirds size copy of the most dazzling of early European grand prix racing cars—the Type 35 Bugatti. From horseshoe-shaped grill to the tip of its boat-tail, it accurately duplicates an automobile produced by Ettore Bugatti, an Italian who produced about 9,500 of the world's finest cars in France. Miller, a Bugatti fan, and Geyer, a car-loving machinist, spent two years of evenings, Saturday and Sundays on the project. Miller has shown the car at sports car races, where it has never failed to draw a crowd of admirers. But the Miller-Geyer Bugatti

Buick's 1958 Line Represents New High in Automotive Skill

Once again Buick wins nationwide acclaim and will surely attract Warrenites to the Auto Show, where Smith Buick, Inc., will display one of its models.

Buick's 1958 line represents "a new high in automotive engineering," according to Edward T. Ragsdale, general manager of Buick and vice president of General Motors.

Topping the new line is the luxurious Limited series, which gives Buick greater representation in the prestige car class. The other series are the Roadmaster, Super, Century and Special.

"This is the start of a new era for Buick," Ragsdale said. "Advanced ideas on transmission, ride and brakes have been put into this line of cars which has been restyled from front to rear."

"Our engineering innovations include, flight pitch Dynaflo which is the closest approach to the ideal automatic transmission in automotive history, an entirely new suspension design, principle in which four columns of air replace the traditional steel springs, and air-cooled aluminum brakes which cool faster and consequently provide safer braking."

"Styling changes are capped by the new grille, which is a complete departure from the industry's traditional front end design, and include chrome-trimmed ribbed aluminum rear fender panels and redesigned taillight housings."

"This is the second major model change we have made in the past two years and with it we have achieved a new high in automotive engineering."

Heading the list of exclusive Buick engineering achievements for 1958 is the triple turbine flight pitch Dynaflo transmissions in which the stator vanes operate on the same principle as an airplane propeller. The vanes, controlled by the accelerator, switch automatically to an infinite number of positions from low to high angle depending upon how far the throttle is depressed.

The new air-poise suspension, which literally carries the car on four columns of air, controls the car's ride and maintains it at the same height from the road regardless of load. Air suspension also reduces the possibility of "crash-through" or "bottoming" when the car hits a big bump. A "lift" feature operated by an instrument panel lever permits raising the car 5½ inches to make it easier to change a tire or to get out of mud or snow.

All 1958 Buicks are equipped with 12-inch brakes and total contact area has been increased to 218 square inches. Front brake drums on most models are of aluminum with a cast iron liner which provides faster cooling and resultant safer operation.

A 364-cubic inch high compression V-8 engine powers all 1958 Buicks. The Special engines are equipped with two-barrel carburetors and four other series with four-barrel carburetors.

Twenty body styles are available in the five series. Included are three estate wagons, four conver-

TRAFFIC RECORD IN 1957 DROPS

Traffic fatalities in the first nine months of 1957 were three per cent lower than in a comparable period last year. In vehicle miles traveled, the fatality rate has gone down from 15.9 deaths per hundred million miles in 1956 to about 6 today. Yet, the number of traffic fatalities per year still totals a tragic 40,000.

American Economy Leaning Heavily On Truck Service

Did you ever stop to consider how much our American economy depends upon trucks? Most of us take for granted the services of the ten million trucks in the United States which transport our necessities for everyday living and working.

But let's look at it this way. What would most mothers do without milk, laundry and delivery trucks? How would the modern housewife prepare her daily meals without refrigerated trucks which help supply her with fresh fruits, vegetables, meats and fish? Or how would she perform her many errands in the family car without gasoline and fuel oil transported to service stations by tank trucks?

According to the American Trucking Association, no other country in the world has as efficient a truck transportation system as ours. Here are just a few statistics, which indicate how much we depend upon trucks and the drivers who pilot them:

—The trucking industry, employing more than 7,000,000 wage earners, is the nation's second largest employer.

Trucks transport — from farm to supermarkets and produce stands — 99.9 per cent of all poultry, 52 per cent of fresh fruits, 99.7 per cent of eggs, 79 per cent of all livestock and 68 per cent of our butter.

—All milk deliveries in the nation's 75 largest cities are made by truck.

—Ninety per cent of all household goods are moved by van-type trucks, 80 per cent of all new cars are shipped by truck, as is 75 per cent of all sand and gravel for highway construction.

—Trucks provide the only land transportation serving at least 25,000 of the nation's towns and villages.

United States farmers use 7,000, thousands, five two-door and five four-door hardtops, two four-door sedans and one two-door sedan.

Take It Easy On Ice, Snow

By Jeanne Smith, Dodge Safety Consultant

"WINTERIZING" your driving habits as well as your automobile is the secret to safe driving on snow and ice.

Here are five important rules for safe winter driving recommended by the Committee on Winter Driving Hazards of the National Safety Council:

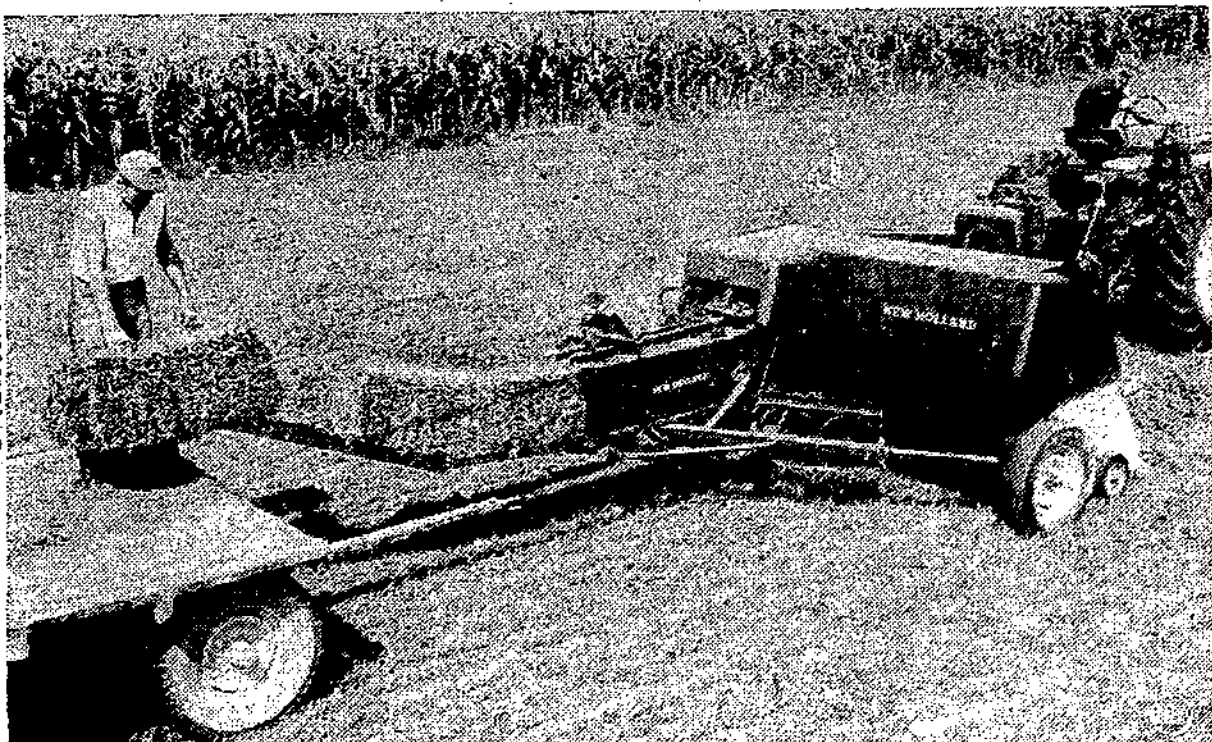

1. When Miss Smith's pavement is slippery, take it easy while accelerating, braking and turning. Drive at a steady pace and get the "feel" of the road. To find out if the pavement is slick, try your brakes occasionally while driving slowly, away from traffic.

2. On snow or ice, stay well behind the car ahead. To avoid a rear collision, the distance between cars must be considerably greater than when the pavement is dry.

3. If you have to stop suddenly on ice, don't panic and jam or "freeze" on brakes. This may send your car into an uncontrollable skid. The best way to maintain full control of your car during a sudden stop is a fast up and down pumping of the brakes. If the rear starts to swing, release the brakes and steer in the direction of the skid.

4. Keep windshield wipers, heaters and defrosters in good working condition. You must see danger to avoid it.

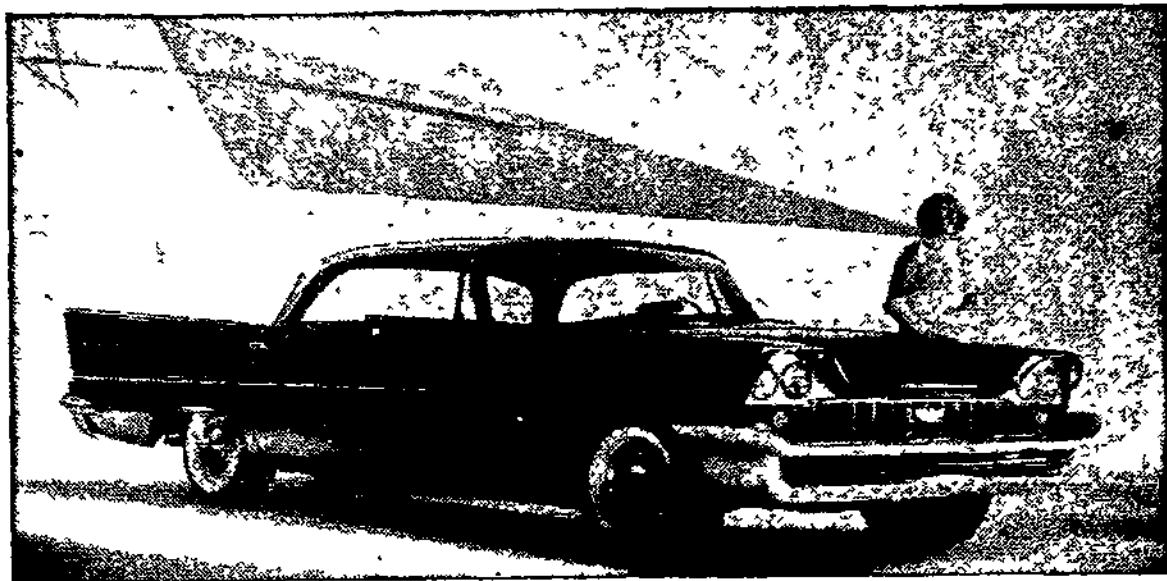

5. Replace worn or smooth tires. Special snow tires are helpful and, for the worst ice and snow conditions, reinforced tire chains are necessary.

"SPORTSCAR" HAY BALER—Farmers attending the Pennsylvania Farm Show at Harrisburg will get a look at a new hay baler so highly maneuverable it has been called the "sportscar of farm machinery." It is pictured above, being demonstrated near New Holland, Pa. Called the Super Hayliner, it picks up hay from rows, sweeps it into the baler. Here measured amounts of hay are whisked into the bale chamber. By special tension controls, the farmer can control the density of the bale and automatically get the bale-weight he wants. Bales are tied with either wire or twine, as preferred.

YOUR FOREST RANGER

By Larry Stoltz

On the 149 national forests, located in 38 States, Puerto Rico and Alaska, one third of the Nation's big-game animals find food, shelter and cover. Through these forests flow 81,000 miles of clear streams many thousands of miles of which are some of the finest trout waters in America. Scattered over the 180,000,000 acres in the national forest system are two and one-quarter million acres of lakes and ponds. One Forest alone, the Superior in Minnesota, contains over 5,000 lakes.

From the tropical forests of Puerto Rico to the muskegs of northern Minnesota every type of wildlife habitat can be found on the national forests. The wildlife habitat, whether it is in the high Sierras of California or in the Green Mountains of Vermont is considered one of the important national forest resources. As such it needs to be developed and maintained at a high level.

The habitat or home for wildlife is constantly changing. It never remains static. Destroy it and you have destroyed the wildlife. On the Allegheny National Forest the abundant sprout growth following clear cutting provided an ideal habitat for a large population of deer. Under national forest management and protection these slashings have been converted into pole clage forests, and there has been a drastic change in the habitat for deer and grouse.

The wild turkey however benefited from this change.

The two methods used widely throughout the national forest system for improving the wildlife habitat are through timber sales and through cooperative wildlife habitat management with the States.

Every time a forester marks a tree for cutting on a national forest timber sale he is improving the wildlife habitat. In a typical year, nearly two million acres of land in the national forests are cut over, planted, thinned or otherwise treated. In each of these treatments wildlife benefits while the stand of timber improves in quality.

The wildlife on any national forest is protected and harvested un-particular State in which the Forest is located. Since the national forests provide homes for so much of the Nation's wildlife it is not surprising that cooperative planning with the States for wildlife habitat management and improvement is an important activity on the national forests. Some of the things that are considered at such meetings include fish and game habitat development and management programs, recommendations for hunting and trapping seasons, hunter distribution problems and in the West packer and out-fitter operations.

Fish and Game Clubs like to take an active part in developing a better home for wildlife and the Forest Service encourages them to engage in such activities on the national forests.

Income Tax Information for The Self-Employed Farmer

Self-employed farmers may use an alternate method for figuring their earnings from their farm, Chester R. Norman, district manager of the Jamestown Social Security Administration office, and Mr. Elliott, Revenue Agent of the Warren Internal Revenue office, reminded farm operators today.

Mr. Elliott pointed out that self-employed farmers may figure their earnings for social security in several ways.

(1) If your gross income from agricultural self-employment is not more than $1800, you may count as your net farm earnings either your actual net or 2/3 of your farm gross income;

(2) If your gross farm income is more than $1800, and your net farm earnings are less than $1200, you may use either your actual net or $1200;

(3) If your gross farm income is more than $1800 and your net farm earnings are $1200 or more, you must use the actual amount of your net earnings.

Mr. Elliott added that the use of the option will enable farmers with gross income as low as $600 to obtain social security protection for themselves in their old age and for their survivors in case of death. However, he emphasized that regardless of the way in which you figure your net earnings, you must have net earnings of at least $400 (from farming alone, or in combination with other self-employment earnings) in order to get social security credit for the year.

In addition to the revised optional method, the 1956 amendments extended social security coverage to some farm owners who receive cash or crop shares from tenant farmers. If the farm-landlord under his agreement with his tenant, materially participates in the production or management of production of the farm crops raised on his land, this income, formerly excluded as rental income, may be reported for social security purposes. This provision is effective for taxable years ending after 1955.

Requests for information regarding taxes due and tax return forms should be directed to the Internal Revenue Office at Warren, Pa. Questions concerning old-age, survivors, and disability insurance program will be answered by your social security office at Jamestown, N. Y., or at the itinerant service office at Warren, Pa., in the State Armory, Hickory street, every Tuesday and Friday between 11:00 a. m. to 1:00 p. m.

Show Patrons Are Anxiously Awaiting The 1958 Cadillac

Auto Show patrons anxiously await a first glimpse of the latest Cadillac to be featured Friday and Saturday at Beatty cafeteria by Fernow Cadillac-Pontiac Inc.

The 1958 Cadillac has a new look of luxury, both inside and out. Accounting for this 1958 look are a new "going away" tail fin, the four headlamp system, sweeping low lines, a dramatically different over-all profile and the finest interiors ever offered by Cadillac.

Included in the 12 models is a new extended deck sedan in the popular 62 Series, according to James M. Roche, Cadillac general manager and vice president of General Motors.

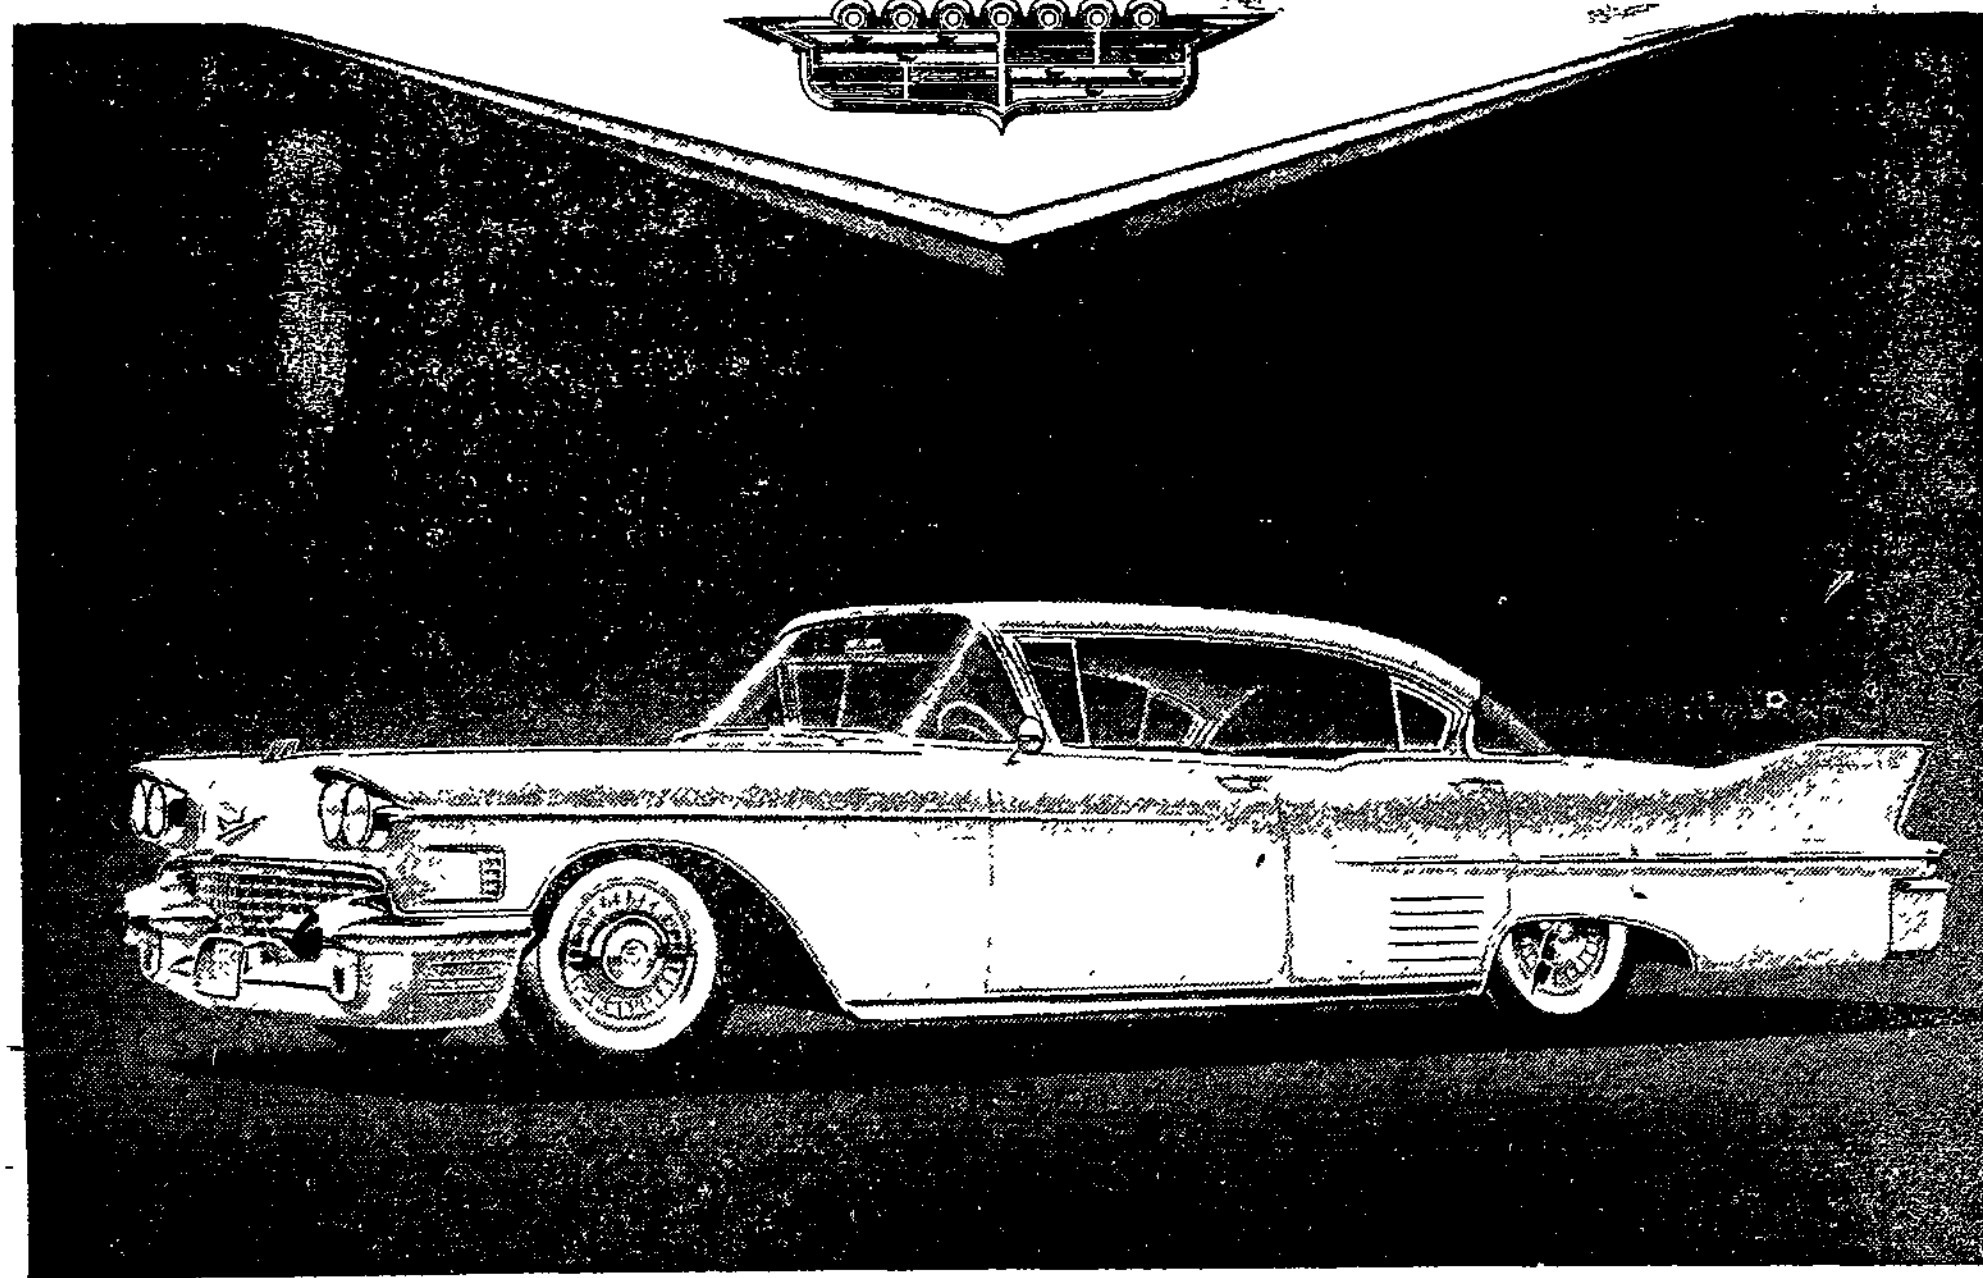

Styling-wise, Cadillac presents a long, low sleep appearance. Responsible for this broad-shouldered longer look are the unique new grille which is inset with jewel-like protrusions, a longer hood, wider and longer fenders, the addition of rear ventiplane windows in four-door model and the new "going away" tail fin.

Again this year the Eldorado Biarritz convertible and Eldorado Seville Coupe retain their own distinctive styling, inside and out. The exterior differences result from the inboard fin treatment of the rear quarter panel and the wrap-around three-section bumper. A new bumper bar is added to the 1958 Eldorados and vertical molding strips are included between the outer bumper sections and the mid-

"Interiors on these two distinctive automobiles are the finest we've ever offered," Roche points out. The Biarritz features eight Cape Buffalo grain and metallic finish leathers. The Seville interiors are available in both Cape Buffalo grain leather and in combinations of leather and crest cloth which is made from nylon faced material with lurex metallic thread.

Twenty-four exterior colors are available on all models other than the Eldorado Brougham. Five of these are long-life, high-lustre acrylic paints which are standard with the Eldorado Biarritz and Eldorado Seville and available as options on other models. The Brougham has 15 distinctive acrylic colors of its own.

Engineering-wise, 1958 is another big year for Cadillac in the advancement of suspension, ride and handling. These are factors which reflect directly in comfort, safety and ease of operation to the owners.

"Swept Wing" Dodge for 1958 Makes Its Debut in Showroom

From H. L. Link, local dealer, to the annual auto show, comes the "swept-wing" Dodge for '58.

Significant advances in safety engineering, fuel economy, and engine performance, plus dramatic "swept-wing" styling, distinguish the 1958 Dodge passenger cars, which made their debut in dealer showrooms early in November.

"This is an automobile designed to maintain the brisk sales pace of this year, and then forge ahead to new records during 1958," declared M. C. Patterson, Dodge president.

"Public acceptance of the 1957 Dodge has been truly overwhelming," he said.

"Swept-wing '58 will capitalize on that acceptance by combining the proven, years-ahead advantages of Dodge styling, running comfort and handling ease with the traditional Dodge emphasis on safety, economy and sure, dependable performance."

Dual headlights, mounted side-by-side under bold, jutting fender hoods, provide greater safety for after-dark driving, and set the pace for an all-new grille design on the 1958 Dodge.

The inner lamp of each dual unit is designed exclusively for high beam operation, the outer lamp for low beam, with a secondary function of providing full-on light for the "brights". The result is a beter lighting pattern, covering more of the right-hand side of the road and extending farther ahead.

The dual units are standard on all 1958 Dodge cars.

A completely new power steering gear called Constant Control is available on all 1958 Dodge models equipped with Torque-Flite or Power-Flite automatic transmissions.

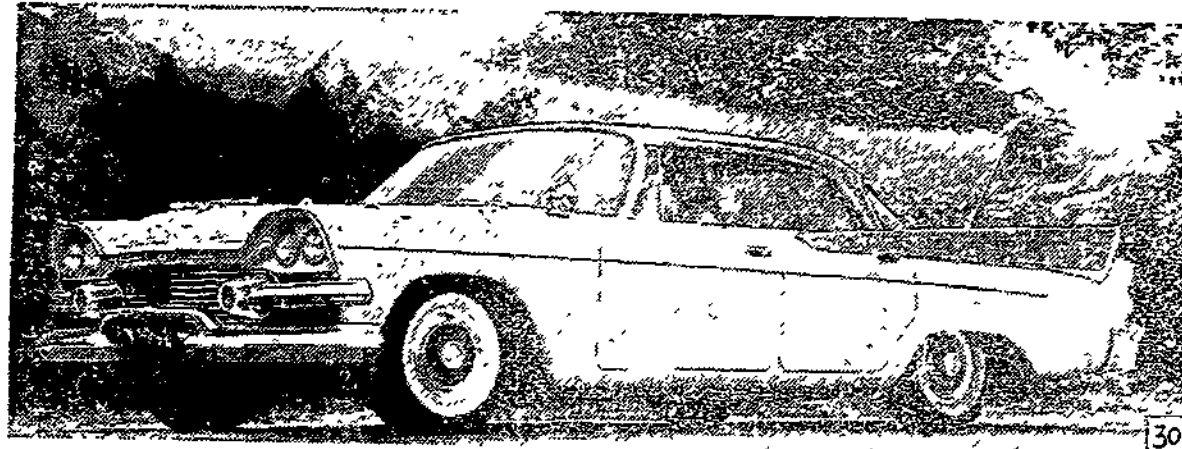

Embodying the all-important feature of full-time operation, Constant Control affords unexcelled ease of maneuvering, requiring only three and one-half turns of the steering wheel from extreme left to extreme right. The unit is located entirely below the floor board.

Parking effort has been further reduced, while additional control has been built into Constant Control, affording a greater sense of firmness and stability during highway driving.

Exterior colors numbering 14 solid and 21 two-tone combinations are available on 1958 Dodge models. New colors and designs carry over into the all new Dodge interiors as well, where the emphasis has been placed on form and line rather than on mere surface decoration.

Interior changes also include a new location for the rear view mirror, affording greater rear visibility and a wider range of adjust-

New High In Styling, Safety

A complete safety group, consisting of power steering, power brakes, padded dashboard and sun visors, is available on all 1958 Dodge cars. This Custom Royal four-door Lancer also features the compound picture windshield, standard on all hardtop and convertible models. The push-button Torque-Flite transmission is an added convenience, and the safety Torsion-Aire ride is standard on all models.

Psychophysical Tests Feature Car Owners Still Auto Club's Display at Show Having Troubles With Breakdowns

Traffic-safety authorities agree that psychophysical tests should be made available periodically to every man or woman who drives a motor car, for their own and the pedestrian's protection.

The car and the road are just as safe—or unsafe—as the driver makes them. The driver cannot correct faults which he does not know he has. Psychophysical testing will detect, without risk of penalty, a driver's physical limitations.

The Warren County Motor Club is proud to offer drivers the opportunity to take such a test during the annual Auto Show at Beauty Cafeteria Friday and Saturday through the unique Porto-Clinic which will be in operation.

These tests will include Visual Acuity, Traffic Color Recognition, Depth Perception, Field of Vision, Reaction Time, Night Vision and Glare Recovery. Such items are all-important factors in safe driving. Knowledge is the compensation for every driver's shortcomings.

Psychophysical tests are of major importance for an accident free record. It should be remembered, however, that even though a person has a good or perfect score on the Porto-Clinic tests, one does not mean that the driver is perfect for individual drivers. The mirror is mounted on the dashboard next to the new integral outlets for radio, defroster and air-conditioning units.

The 1958 Dodge line consists of four separate series: Coronet; Royal; Custom Royal; and station wagon. Four four-door sedans are offered, three four-door Lancer hardtops, three two-door Lancer hardtops, two club sedans, two convertibles and five station wagons.

Two of the station wagons feature rear-facing "Spectator" third seats.

not assume expertness as a driver. Proper driving training and experience plus correct driving habits and attitudes are also essential to safe driving.

The Warren County Motor Club invites your interested participation in these important Porto-Clinic tests when you attend the Auto Show, and will, in addition, offer two full club membership awards at the show.

The Porto-Clinic appears through the courtesy of Wm. F. Crossett, Inc.

From reports all over the country, car owners are still having their troubles with breakdowns, with the average being close to one breakdown per car annually. In recent years, flat tires and battery and electrical troubles have headed the list. On the basis of reports from its 18,000 contract garages, AAA figures out total annual breakdown causes and they add up to something like this: 12,906,000 flat tires; 12,018,000 battery and electrical failures; 6,445,000 calls for rescue by a towing or wrecker truck, while 2,129,000 absent-minded motorists ran out of gas.

There are approximately 35,000 pieces of equipment in AAA contract garages ready to go to the rescue of stranded motorists. Some of this equipment is radio-dispatched and AAA recently has been granted three additional frequencies by the Federal Communications Commission for emergency calls and for collecting information on traffic tie-ups.

Huge Ice Cap

Greenland's ice cap, in some places more than 10,000 feet thick, covers 700,000 square miles, an area nearly one-fourth the size of the United States.

Service Stations and Jobbers Helping to Promote Auto Show

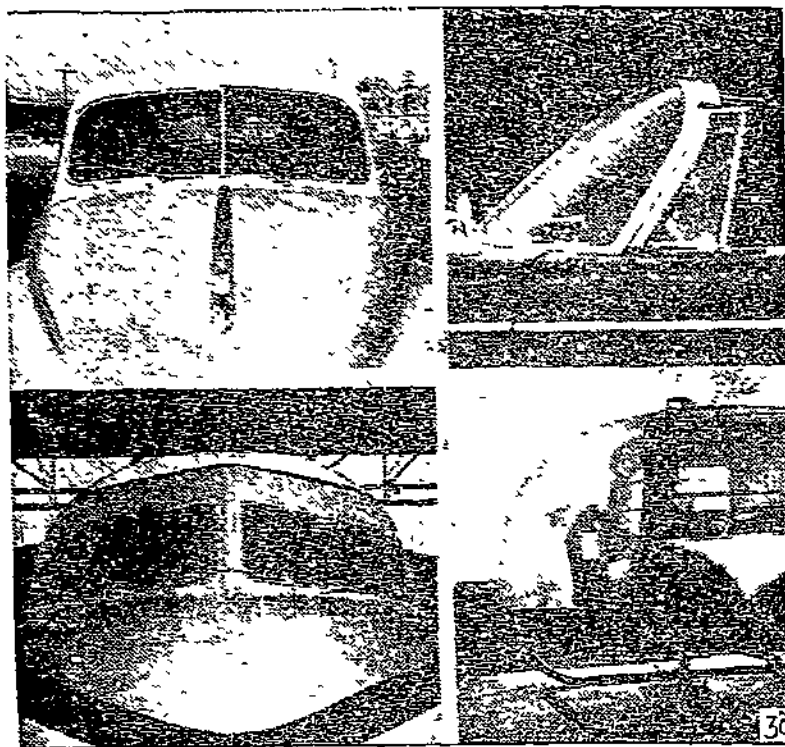

An impressive list of service stations and auto parts jobbers have already contributed greatly to the success of the Annual Auto Show. Some have offered financial assistance; others will be responsible for special awards throughout the 1958 presentation of new cars.

Those participating in the program are: Barnhart-Davis, Decker and Iseman Service Station, Jackson's Keystone Station, J. & R. Esso Service Station, R. W. Norris Co., Edinger Keystone (Penn. Ave. and Hickory), Olson & Bjers Service Station, Nichols & Son, Munksgard Texaco, O. K. Service Station, Mowrey Atlantic Service Station, Dykes Esso Station, Fago Pennzoil Service, Check Bros. Service Station, Timmis Bros. Lighthouse Service Station, Dorion's Friendly Service Station, Times Square Super Service Station, Valley Garage and Valone Bros. Atlantic.

The Amazon River in South America is 4,000 miles long.

New Vistas Of Vision

A DECADE OF DESIGN has made great differences in driver vision, whether that driver commands an airliner or an automobile. At left, are the post-World War II versions of windshields for both—a 1947 Dodge, above; a DC-3, below. The pictures at right show today's control tower vision on either the airways or the expressways. The upper picture shows the "picture windshield" on the 1958 Dodge, while the lower shows similar improvement in visibility on a current helicopter.

HERE ARE SOME THINGS TO LOOK FOR when you size up the 1958 cars at the Auto Show. We suggest you start with a styling comparison because that's very important to you. Notice that while some of the cars are nearly as low as the Swept-Wing '58, it has been achieved by sacrificing windshield area. Check that. Then get into the driver's seat. See if the new driving position and the added visibility of Swept-

Wing '58 don't give you a greater sense of comfort and confidence than other cars in Dodge's field. Most important, arrange to get a new Dodge on the road and test its great advances: No-sway Torsion-Aire, push-button driving, Constant-Control power steering that works full-time. Your Dodge dealer invites you to "check out" a Swept-Wing '58 after seeing it at the show. To own it is a new adventure.

Complete Transformation for 1958 Chevrolet Dramatized

The complete transformation of Chevrolet for 1958 will be dramatically emphasized at the Auto Show, states Dan's Chevrolet of its display.

They are longer, lower and wider than any previous Chevrolet. They set a fresh new mode in sculptural styling, capped by a gull wing rear fender effect. And because of a new frame, new suspension and other significant mechanical gains, they make possible a whole new experience in riding and operating ease.

Beyond the pace-setting change in exterior design, the 1958 Chevrolet introduces:

An unusual X-shaped, wasp-waist frame that is 30 per cent more rigid and permits improved ride engineering.

A revolutionary suspension with standard coil springs at the rear wheels or a choice of air suspension, pioneered by Chevrolet this year in its field.

A V8 engine new from "fan to flywheel" with a completely new combustion chamber design that allows positioning of large valves for high volumetric efficiency.

The Bel Air series is expanded by the addition of the Impala, a new "luxury line" which includes convertible and 2-door hardtop models. The Biscayne takes in the middle of the low-price bracket while the Delray covers the bottom end of the price spread. In line with the continually mounting popularity of station wagons, an exclusive five-unit series has been established.

Rounding out Chevrolet's array of 1958 cars is the re-styled Corvette, offering the ultimate in sports car performance and design. With the 1958 Corvette, Chevrolet marks its sixth year of sports car production. Continuing the lightweight plastic body which is exclusive among production vehicles, the 1958 Corvette has a new sculptured look and a bigger bag of mechanical tricks with a wide range of options.

Bumper to bumper, the Chevrolet is nine inches longer in 1958 for a new overall length of 209 inches. Wheelbase is up two and a half inches to 117½. Roof lines are lowered up to 2½ inches while overall width is nearly four inches more than 1957.

Front end styling is accented by dual headlamps, a grille with fine grid concave ribs and a low, flat hood unbroken by ornamentation. Varied two-tone paint treatments, chrome moldings and decorative panels distinguish the series. Rear fender lines have a sculptured look and sweep gracefully outward from the body, then curl around the taillight ensemble in a winged design.

Equally significant are the mechanical advances which bring new performance, comfort and safety experiences to motoring.

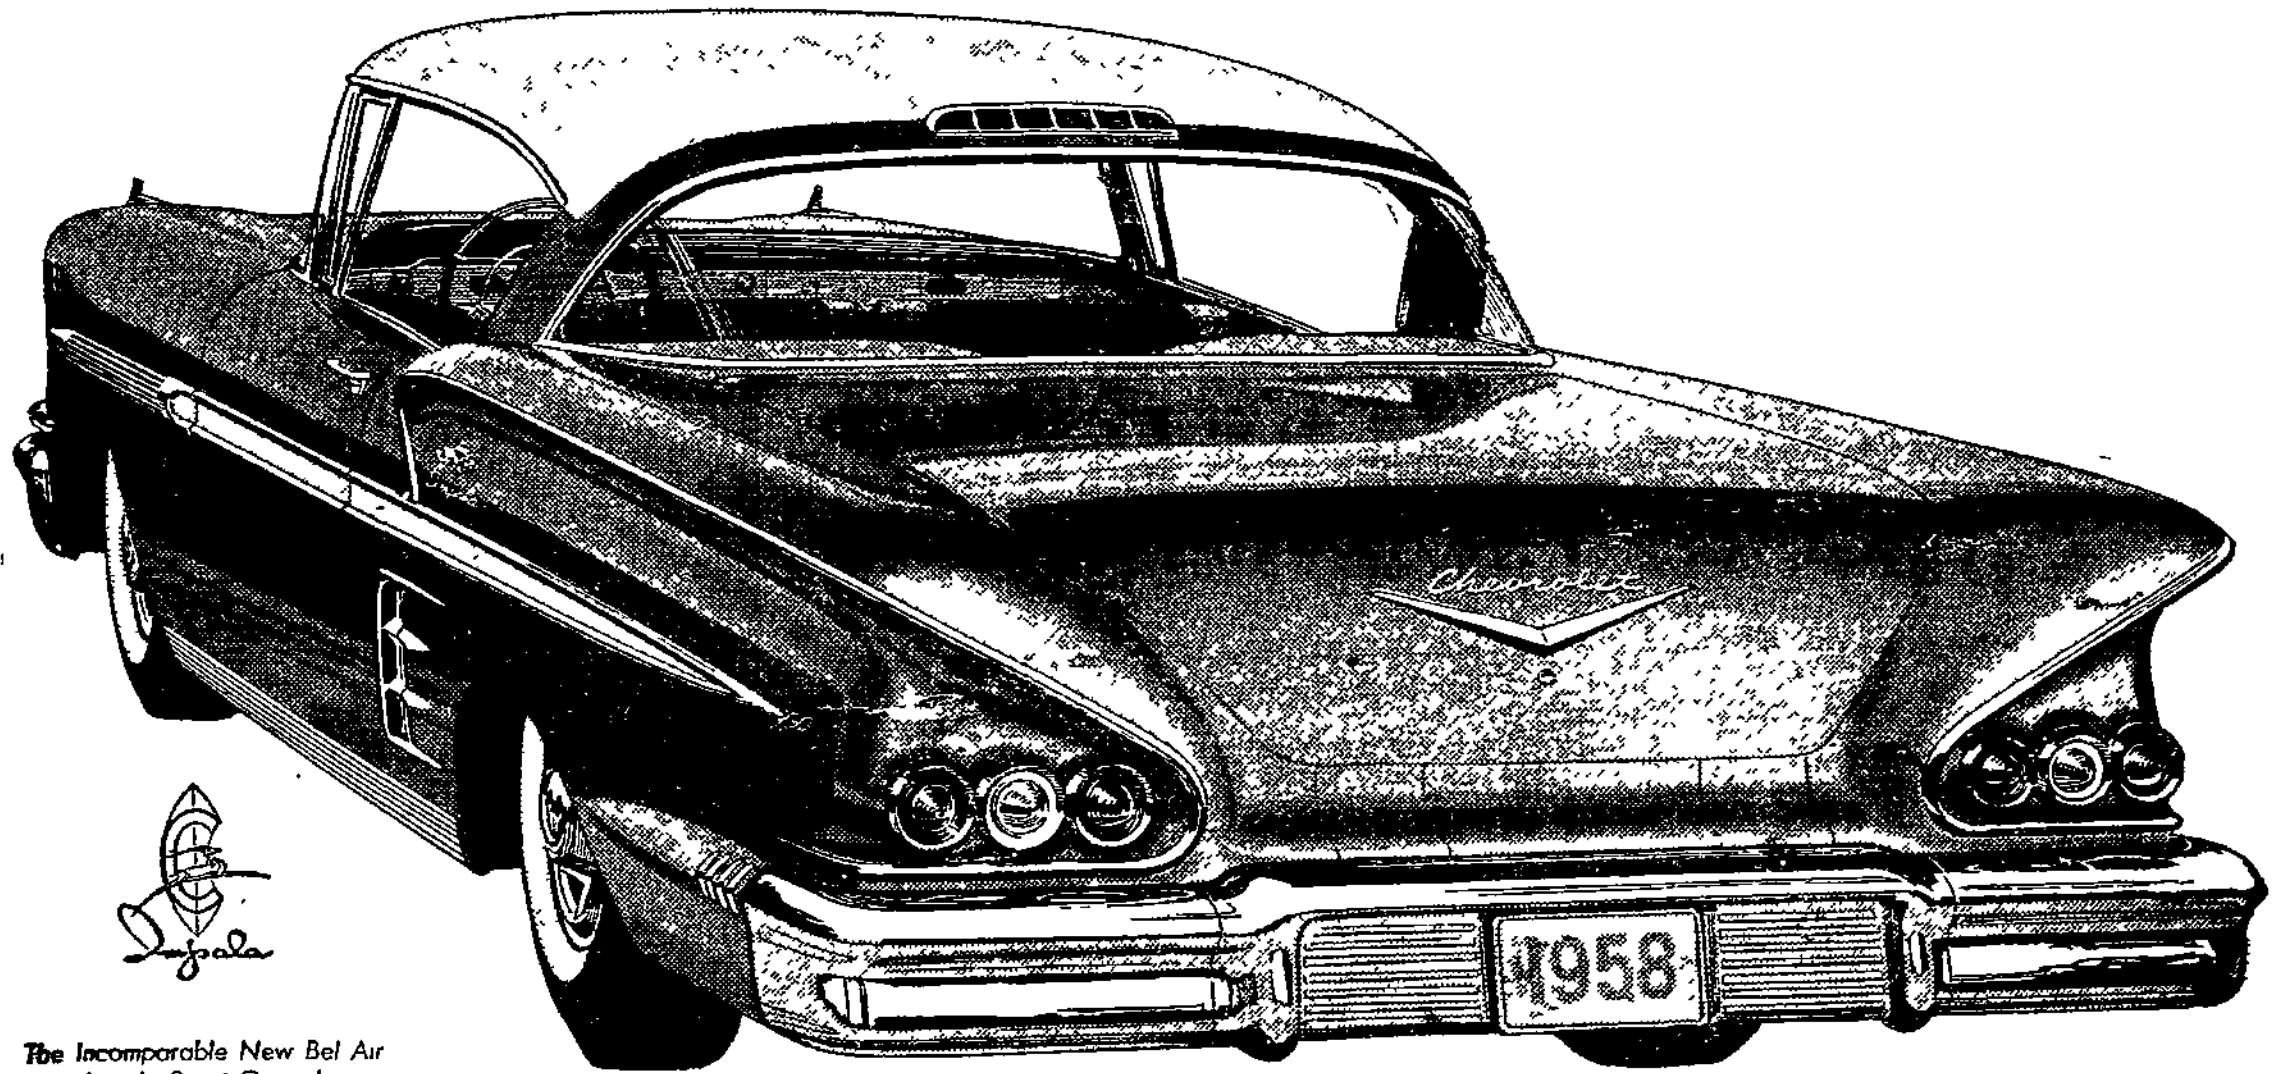

The new engine is one of five V8's and a six-cylinder engine for the new line along with fuel injection which Chevrolet introduced last year. Transmissions are all improved and include Automatic Turboglide, Powerglide, three-speed Synchronesh manual and overdrive for a total of 18 different power trains.

Sunshine Skyway
St. Petersburg, Fla.
A thrilling trip to sea, by car, awaits the motorist on the wide causeways and bridges of 15-mile Sunshine Skyway across Lower Tampa Bay. The center span, 150 feet above the water, offers a bird's-eye view of sky and ocean. At either end are areas for bathing and picnicking. Miles of walkways along the Skyway are a fisherman's paradise.

Crandon Park
Miami, Fla.
Thousands of coconut palms sway in the breezes, and gentle waves lap the golden sands, suggesting pleasures of a South Sea isle. Yet Crandon Park is just a few miles via the Rickenbacker Causeway from Miami's towering skyline. Cabanas, picnic grounds and free parking for 6,500 cars help make this one of our country's outstanding public parks.

Marine Studios
Marineland, Florida
You can visit the bottom of the ocean without even getting your feet wet at Marine Studios, Marineland, Florida, about 50 miles south of Jacksonville. Here the drama of the sea, with thousands of fish and turtles as actors, can be seen through glass portholes in giant "oceanarium" tanks. For the thousands of visitors, feeding time at Porpoise Stadium is always a highlight.

Tip For Florida-Bound
Upside-Down Road Map
Driving from North to South, motorists often turn standard road maps upside down. Right and left turns are simpler, near by cities and towns easier to locate. But it's hard to read the printing. Now, for Florida vacationers, there's a special New York-to-Florida upside-down map by Esso Touring Service. It's available at dealers from New York through the Carolinas.

Natural gas from offshore wells in the Gulf of Mexico is helping to keep many eastern cities warm this winter. With the turning of this valve on a platform 7½ miles off the Louisiana shore, the Transcontinental Gas Pipe Line System recently took the first delivery of gas from offshore reserves which are owned by Mecom Petroleum and San Jacinto Petroleum Corporation. Over the next year, Transcontinental Gas Pipe Line Corporation will daily purchase and deliver to eastern cities between 25 and 30 million cubic feet of natural gas from these underwater wells to supplement gas from underground wells along the Gulf Coast.

"Seems that everyone's ordering new Plymouths"

You'll find plenty of good reasons why so many people are deserting old favorites for the new Plymouth—Plymouth's satin-smooth Torsion-Aire Ride, Silver Dart Styling and, optional at low cost, Golden Commando V-8 engine that definitely stamps today's Plymouth ahead for keeps.

Star of the Forward Look... Star of the Auto Show...

Plymouth

New "Silver Dart" Styling Is Feature of the 1958 Plymouth

New "Silver Dart" styling, accentuating the familiar directional stabilizer fins, plus many engineering advances feature the 1958 Plymouth at the Auto Show.

H. L. Link, Plymouth dealer, states that changes in the new Plymouth improve the car's appearance, performance, comfort and safety.

The new Plymouth "Silver Dart" side moulding is a distinctive two-tone color treatment, sweeping upward at the rear on Belvedere and Sport Suburban models, with dart inserts of silvery anodized aluminum or optional compatible colors. Another distinctive new side trim is available also on Savoy and Plaza models.

Double header dual headlights are standard equipment on all new Plymouths, with the inner beams producing maximum long-range forward visibility and the outer pair providing supplemental fill-in light when used in combination, or efficient low-beam lighting when used alone. With filaments centered in all lamps, the new dual headlights produce the safest, most scientifically effective night lighting ever attained for automobiles.

New turn signals and parking lights are nestled in a triangular area above and between the headlights. Tail lights also are new, with circular reflectors lower in the fender and a silver-colored reflective wedge extending upward to the tip of the fin. The back-up light is centered beneath the rear bumper.

The lower front grille of the Plymouth for 1958 has been redesigned with a horizontal bar effect identical to the upper grille section.

New Plymouth colors for 1958 are generally softer and more elegant, with 15 solid color options and 44 two-tone combinations. Luxurious new textured fabrics are offered in all lines.

A compact new Constant Control power steering design, permitting location of the unit fully within the engine compartment, provides Plymouth's famous full-time effort-free power steering control maximum safety.

Standard equipment with V-8 Plymouths in 1958 is a new "Fuel-Saver" automatic economy choke, designed to save fuel in all driving situations where gasoline waste normally occurs, and particularly effective as a fuel-saver in short-trip city driving.

Air conditioned 1958 Plymouth cars have a new outlet for better distribution of cool, dehumidified air and a more powerful blower. Air conditioning is combined with the heating system of the Ply-

Some Essentials to Include on Your Winter Vacation

Figuring on a winter vacation this year, like so many more Americans are doing annually?

If so, it's likely you'll run into changes in temperatures, weather and climate, whether you're going from the eastern snows to the sunny beaches of Florida or on to the Arizona desert or to snow-clad Sierras.

You'll be using your heater a lot, and consequently keeping the windows closed, if you're starting out from the snow country. Make sure there are no cracks, holes or rusted-out spots in your exhaust pipe or muffler that might leak lethal fumes into the car.

And be sure to include tire chains—they can cut braking distance 40 to 70 per cent.

"When you're driving in snow or ice, try your brakes occasionally to get the feel of the road," suggests Krause. "Remember, at 20 miles an hour it takes 60 feet to stop on loosely-packed snow and 195 feet on ice. If you do have to stop suddenly, 'pump' the brakes. Don't jam them on."

Fresh snow, blowing into drifts across the highway, can cause trouble. If you encounter heavy drifts, coast to a stop and look over the situation.

Try rocking back and forth steadily without spinning your wheels. When you build up a rhythmic action, you're on your way out.

If a tire happens to blow out, don't panic and jam on the brakes. Hold the steering wheel firmly in the opposite direction in which it wants to go. Then keeping the car in a straight line, brake gradually to a stop off the road.

"If you start skidding, don't slam on the brakes, either," advises Krause. "Turn your wheels in the direction the rear end is sliding and concentrate on steering the car to a safe spot. Dropping into 'low' or 'grade' range on a Buick Dynaflo-equipped car slows the vehicle and helps bring it to a stop, too. Once the skid has been controlled or slowed, 'pump' the brakes slightly to stop the car."

"I know this is old advice, but it's time-proven and it works. A lot of winter driving accidents could be prevented if more people remembered what to do when skidding."

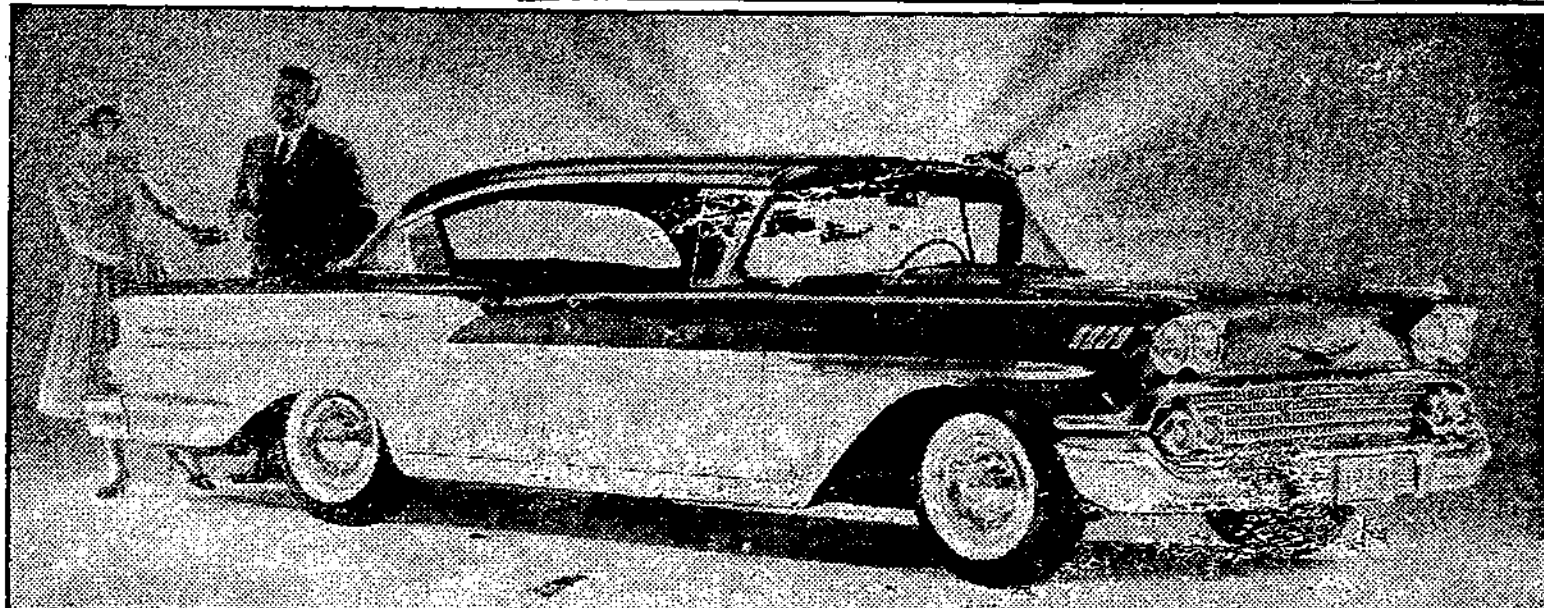

If you're caught in a storm or heavy traffic, where you must creep along slowly, lessen the drain on your battery by keeping your engine turning over fast enough to show 'charge'.

In cold areas keep your gasoline tank well filled to prevent fuel lines from freezing as a result of condensation in the tank. Conversely, in hot areas, don't fill the tank to the top. Heat causes gasoline to expand and the tank may overflow.

mouth, with a single set of controls.

Plymouth offers a choice of 19 V-8 and 17 six-cylinder models for 1958, including six Suburban station wagons with either V-8 or six cylinder power plants. Optional with 4-door station wagons is the popular rear-facing third seat which folds into the floor when not in use.

LEAN, LOW LINES SPARK CHEVROLET BEAUTY

Chevrolet stylists have taken full advantage of nine inches in hood. Notable also is an unusual Sculpturamic styling which added length to mold low, fleet beauty into their 1958 models, as shown by this view of the Bel Air 2-door sedan. A new engine, new frame and two new suspension systems are only a few of the major chassis advances. Station Wagon, Bel Air, Biscayne and Delray Series are offered.

Pontiac for 1958 Will be Unveiled By Fernow Garage

Fernow Pontiac-Cadillac invites your attendance to the annual auto show for a first-hand glimpse of Pontiac for '58.

"Visitors to this year's auto show will see the all-new 1958 Pontiacs that represent the boldest advance our company has made in 50 years of producing fine cars," S. E. Knudsen, GM vice president and general manager of Pontiac Motor Division, said today. "These bold new cars are both a tribute to GM's Golden Jubilee and our own 50th Anniversary," he said.

Some of the features which will place Pontiac closer to the top in the automobile industry according to Knudsen are a completely new body that is 4.5 inches lower than ever before, a remarkable "X" type frame, air ride suspension, and a selection of 370 cubic inch engines designed to fit every buyer's personal requirements.

"Whether you choose a Pontiac Chieftain, Super Chief, Star Chief, or one of the Bonneville 'sport' models, you'll be buying the best engineered car on the road today," asserted E. M. Estes, chief engineer for Pontiac Motor Division.

As his company prepared its exhibit for the auto show here Estes revealed that in designing the Pontiac for 1958 his staff included 135 separate safety features.

"Significant among these Pontiac safety features," stated Estes, "are dual sealed beam head lamps and dual tail lamps, a body by Fisher completely encircled with reinforced steel, new safety-engineered steering wheel and a lower center of gravity that helps minimize car roll and adds new meaning to Pontiac's well established reputation as America's Number One Road Car."

According to Estes, 1958 Pontiac prototypes passed every conceivable engineering test months before the cars went into production. "Employing GM's vast car test facilities, our new models have definitely proved their roadability and durability through hundreds of thousands of miles of grueling test driving," he said.

"Everyone at Pontiac is proud of this all-new product. Our old and new customers alike will be equally proud to drive the all-new Pontiac," said Estes.

There are new oil rings and newly designed lower compression ring for better high vacuum oil control, while new valve rocker arm covers with wider flange and gasket give better protection against oil leakage.

The cylinder block has been strengthened by casting additional iron in the bearing bulkhead area and by adding a reinforcing rib between the bulkheads.

Previous features of this high performance V-8 engine are retained including such Pontiac "first" as ideal flow pattern, pressure-suction crankcase ventilation, reverse flow gusher valve cooling, quad gallery full-pressure lubrication system, ball pivot valve train, tin-plated pistons, harmonic balancer and aluminum valves. Hydraulic valve lifters and overlapping crankshaft bearings are continued.

Drive Against Accidents Launched by the A.A.A.

AAA clubs are carrying forward a vigorous accident prevention program in the fields of school safety patrols, pedestrian safety, and driver education. The reduction in pedestrian fatalities is particularly heartening. Pedestrian fatalities, which amounted to 15,500 in 1937, had been reduced to 7,950 in 1956. This was accomplished during a period when motor vehicle registrations more than doubled, population increased one-third and non-pedestrian fatalities increased one-third.

Survey after survey shows that youngsters who have had driver education courses in accordance with approved standards, have only one-half as many accidents as those in the same age group without such training. In Michigan, applicants for driving licenses who are under 18 years old must have completed an approved driver education course. A similar law will become effective in Connecticut in 1958.

Flowers of Texas
Texas boasts about 5,000 different species of wild flowers, some of which grow there exclusively. Native flora ranges from rugged cacti to delicate orchids.

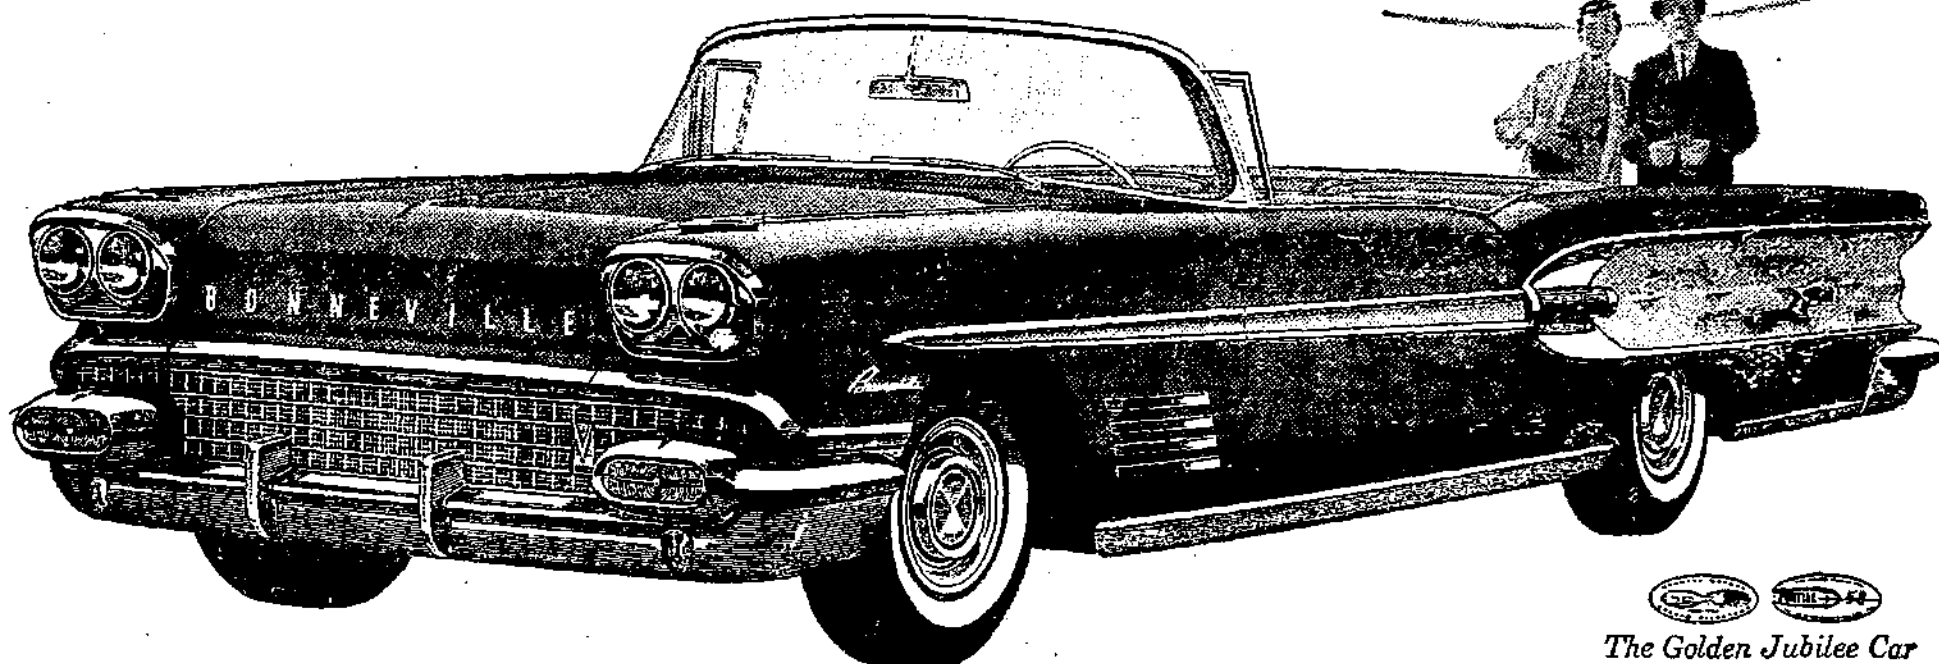

About 90,000 tourists from the United States have booked passage to Sweden in 1958.

QUAKE ROCKS PERUVIAN CITY—Terrified residents of Arequipa, Peru, mill in a street as an earthquake which killed over 20 persons rocks the city. A commercial sign at upper left underscores the grim story as cracks appear in the walls at right. A woman (left foreground) places her hands in an attitude of prayer as a dust cloud rises in the background.

DISTINCTIVE PROFILE of the new 1958 Pontiac Bonneville convertible is high-lighted by a long, low silhouette. Built on a 122-inch wheelbase and measuring 211.7 inches in length and only 55.7 inches high, this futuristic convertible is custom designed from the gold Bonneville name plate on the front fenders to the four stars on the rear quarter. Bucket-type seats, four simulated horizontal louvers on the front fenders and series markings on the rear quarter panels are some of the prominent features which distinguish this sports-type model from the Chieftain convertible.

1907 HILLMAN—Built 50 years ago by William Hillman and Louis Coatslen. It was a formidable 25 h. p. four-cylinder model designed for the Isle of Man TT Race of 1907. The first Hillman Minx was built 25 years later by Sir William Rootes, and brought new conceptions of comfort, performance and reliability to light car design.

NEW 1958 "JUBILEE" HILLMAN—Rootes Motors Ltd., of England heralds the beginning of its second half-century of auto making with the introduction in America of a newly restyled line of cars. Known as the "Jubilee" Hillmans, the line includes this Hillman Minx four-door sedan, a convertible and a four-door station wagon. New "Jubilee" Hillmans feature a boost in torque which results in stepped-up performance in the lower speed range, with no loss in operating economy; a completely restyled front end; new range of colors and interior trims; and new "finger-tip" steering. The new "Jubilee" Hillmans will go on display for the first time in the Bevy School Showrooms on Friday and Saturday, January 24 and 25. Prices start under $1,600.

Strides Recorded During Past Year Highway Programs

For passenger car owners, the year 1957 has been, on the whole, a year of promise rather than a year of solid accomplishment.

The multi-million dollar highway program, written into law last year, is beginning to make good forward strides, and, according to Bureau of Public Roads officials, new construction of the National System of Interstate and Defense Highways is on schedule.

The greatest problems in translating the new highway program into miles of road lie in the metropolitan areas. Here the overlapping authority of governmental units and the vigorous interest of numerous and contending civic groups oftentimes present problems of the first magnitude. The future of mass transportation systems and their financing complicate the urban problem. Transit groups and some public officials propose use of road tax funds for mass transportation facilities. They would have the term "highway purpose" construed to include mass transportation facilities. They would thus legalize such use of road funds despite the anti-diversion statutes adopted by more than half the states. Highway user groups are vigorously opposing such concepts and are asserting that if the transit industry requires subsidization it should be at the expense of taxpayers in general and not of motorists.

The public hearings required on all Federal-aid projects when a highway is to go through an urban community or by-pass it, have helped bring a better public understanding of the problems involved in locating and financing the types of highways required by modern traffic, and the importance of maintaining high standards, including control of access.

DOWN WITH POLIO! — If you've done your bit in contributing to the fight against polio, you'll get a bang out of those descending heavy lines in Newschart above. And these figures: 62 per cent less polio in 1957 than in 1936. The dread paralytic type down 73 per cent from 1936. Although U.S. Public Health Service, which released the data, didn't say so, the inference is that the great defeat of this crippling disease was the result of polio vaccine protection. But—USPS points out, 16,000,000 Americans under 20 and 30,000,000 others, aged 20 to 40, have not had any shot.

HOMES FOR AMERICANS

THIS ONE-STORY MODIFIED RANCH HOUSE has seven rooms, two bathrooms and a lavatory room, including three bedrooms, a full basement and a two-car garage. The habitable area has 1,668 sq ft excluding the recreation room and the garage. These areas add 744 sq ft. All of its principal rooms are toward the rear outdoor-living area. The plan, HA20-Y, is by Architect Herman H. York, 90-04 161st St., Jamaica 32, N.Y.

AKELEY

Akeley—The Friendly Neighbor Club met in the trailer-home of Mrs. Josephine Larsen. The Upper Room was read, and all recited The Lord's Prayer. Miss Grace Granquist gave a poem, "Tis Smiling". Because of changeable weather and bad driving, no further meetings will be held until April when all will go to the Rouse Hospital to help Sadie Gustafson celebrate her birthday. Concluding the meeting, a social time featured refreshments.

The Adult Fellowship Group met at the Methodist church, with Rev. John Ruggiero, of Lander Methodist church, speaking and Miss Mills singing two solos.

All officers and teachers of church schools of Russell and Akeley held a meeting with the Conference secretary of education, Rev. Donald Struchen of Meadville, in the local church Tuesday evening. Church school materials and program were discussed and refreshments served.

Rambler American
New Entry in the Annual Auto Show

A new entry in the annual Auto Show as well as in the U.S. automobile market, is the Rambler American, featured at Emory Mahan's North Warren. Designed to combine economy and handling, ease of the small European cars with the performance, comfort and roominess of the large American cars, the Rambler American is outstanding.

The five-passenger, two-door sedan, which will have the lowest advertised-delivered price of any automobile built in the U.S., will go on sale at Rambler dealerships across the nation on January 30. Nearly three-feet shorter than the average American car but with space-per-passenger equal to the largest low-price cars, the American will get its first public showing at the Chicago Auto Show, which opens tomorrow.

"The Rambler American actually is a car in answer to a demand," according to Roy Abernethy, vice-president of automotive distribution and marketing of American Motors. "Both the motoring public, fleet operators and our dealers urged us to again offer a car with a wheelbase of 100 inches, as we did until 1955. The market for this size car now has reached a point where the American 'had' to be brought out."

The American, Abernethy said, makes a perfect addition to American Motors' line of compact and small cars — the 108-inch wheelbase Rambler Six and Rambler Rebel V-8, the 117-inch-wheelbase Ambassador V-8 and the imported Metropolitan, which has a wheelbase of 85 inches.

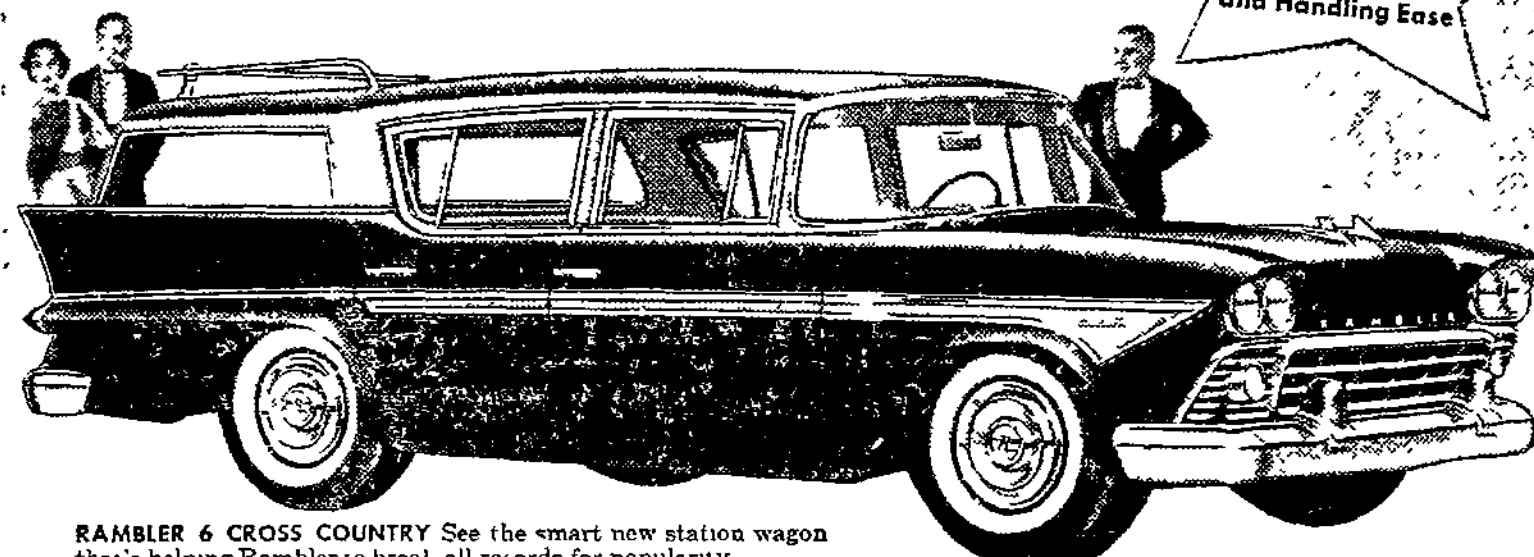

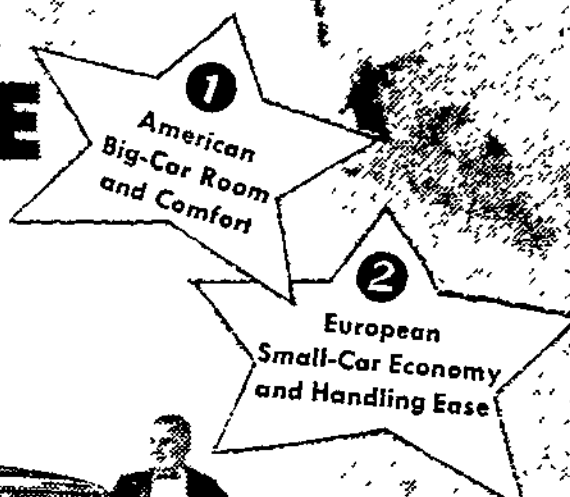

Tastefully styled, the Rambler American will retain "styling stability," thus maintaining a high resale value in line with the company's philosophy of making the American the nation's most economical car to buy, operate and sell.

As a further aid to economy of operation for "do-it-yourself" fans, an owner's handbook showing how to make minor repairs and adjustments will be provided.

The American will be available in nine solid colors and eight two-tone combinations. On two-tone models the secondary color is used on the roof panel. Double-coat baked enamel is used.

Interiors are color-keyed to the exterior finish. Upholsteries are of nylon-blend fabrics with vinyl trims. Also, all-vinyl upholstery is offered at no extra cost.

The 90-horsepower L-head six-cylinder engine has a compression ratio of 8.0 to 1 and a piston displacement of 195.6 cubic inches. Bore and stroke measurements are 3-3/4 inches by 4-1/4 inches.

Stunning Studebaker for '58
Will be Feature of the Show

Bowen White Truck Inc., announces the stunning Studebaker for 1958 to be featured at the Auto Show.

Two graceful all-new Studebaker hardtops, one in the Commander series, the other in the President series have been added to the line of fine automobiles.

With a lowered roof line, reminiscent of the beauty and symmetry of an airfoil, the two new queens of the Studebaker line incorporate the outstanding lines of the classic award-winning Hawks.

The two new cars combine the Hawks' sleek, low profile and fin treatment with big car massiveness.

The President hardtop is powered by an overhead valve V-8 engine which creates 225 horsepower. Displacement is 289 cubic inches and the engine is equipped with a four-barrel carburetor. Torque is 305 foot pounds at 3,000 revolutions per minute with a bore of three and nine-sixteenths inches and a stroke of three and five-eighths inches. Compression ratio is 8.3 to 1.

The Commander is powered by a 250 2-cubic inch engine with a two-barrel carburetor and is capable of producing 180 horsepower. However, a power kit with four-barrel carburetor which increases horsepower to 195 is available as optional equipment.

Both of these crisp and clean automobiles are mounted on a 116 5/8-inch wheelbase with an overall length of 202 1/4 inches. Sleek and low, they are only 57 1/2 inches in height without loss of headroom.

Extensive engineering improvements have made these 1958 Studebakers the best riding cars in the company's history. This new "Luxury-Level" ride gives greater comfort, stability and safety in virtually every phase of road handling characteristics.

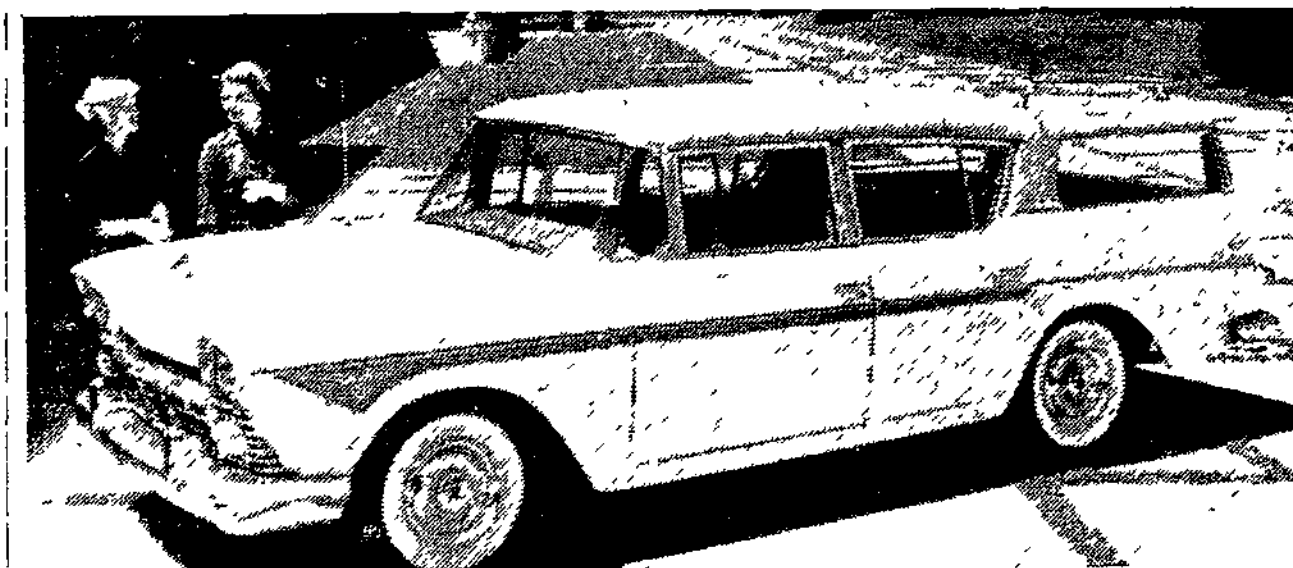

The new ride is compounded of developments in both body and chassis construction. The new roof line suggests the most sweeping engineering change. This was made possible by the introduction of the one-piece drive shaft.

A unique combination of high fashion and safety provides the theme for the brand new interiors of the new Studebaker hardtops.

High fashion, in good taste, is achieved through integration of custom-crafted fabric upholstery, created especially for the new automobiles and distinctive "Shantung" styled vinyl trims.

This Shantung styling gives the vinyl a grained-like, raised, woven effect of tweed. Upholsteries are combined with interior and exterior paint finishes in careful color harmony.

The 1958 Rambler Cross Country station wagon continues to feature the highly popular and distinctive notched roof with chrome travel rack, and the roll-down rear window. The tail-gate utilizes a new type of locking device. A recessed T-handle in the inside upper edge of the gate is lifted up to release the double latches.
